Soviet Accused Of Intimidation

PARIS, (AP)—Australian Delegate J. A. Beasley brought delegates at the Paris peace conference to their feet Tuesday with a blistering attack in which he accused Russia of "lies," "intimidation" and "power politics."

But the burst of hard-boiled oratory ended amicably and the Australian and his antagonist, Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet deputy foreign minister, left the room smiling at each other

Before adjournment of the political and economical commission on the Italian treaty, at which the clash occurred, Australia agreed to drop her proposal for a standing sub-committee to "examine, collect and report" on the facts in Italy's frontier dispute with Yugoslavia, France and Austria and to make recommendations if it desired.

But the commission adopted unanimously a similar proposal from the French to organize a standing committee to investigate any point of dispute concerning the Italian frontier. This committee will have three rotating members from the countries invited to the 21-power conference and four members from the four principal powers.

Mr. Beasley began his outburst by exclaiming to Mr. Vishinsky, "All right now, you've had a lot to say, and I'm going to have my say too."

He came to the defence of Col. W. R. Hodgson of Australia, whose arguments before the Italian treaty economic commission had been belittled by Vishinsky.

"Freedom from fear does not exist in the world today," Mr. Beasley said. "Fear is abroad in Europe, which is a sorry place after this war, and this fear is enhanced by the Russian tactics of thrusting their speeches down the throats of those who oppose them . . ."

"There is a lot of lying going on in the case of many of these questions. The peace of Europe is as important to us as to anybody else."

Soon Mr. Vishinsky rose to protest. Lief Egeland of South Africa, presiding, intervened at one point, in an attempt to silence the Australian.

Mr. Beasley appeared aroused especially by a remark Mr. Vishinsky made earlier that "Australia is the farthest point from Europe and has presented 35 percent of the proposals to this conference." Mr. Beasley retorted:

"We may be 15,000 miles away from Europe, but we fought in two wars in Europe and have lost some of our best men here. We refuse to recognize that Soviet Russia has any more rights than we. We are not going to be intimidated because one power feels it is big at the moment."

During the Australian's speech, the Russian delegation gathered around Mr. Vishinsky and laughed together.

Mr. Beasley called for more organization and better understanding so that the treaties would be representative documents and not "pieces of patchwork."

In another phase of the peace conference, Czechoslovakia defended before the Balkan commission Russia's demand for $300,000,000 reparations from Romania. In yet another spot, State Secretary Byrnes of the United States conferred for an hour with Prime Minister Georgiev, head of the Bulgarian delegation.

Ottawa Expects New Move For Steel Strike Settlement

By Torchy Anderson

OTTAWA—A surprise attempt by labor to end the steel strike appeared probable Tuesday as labor leaders conferred in Ottawa.

Labor Minister Mitchell was silent as he remained out of the house, apparently expecting developments.

C. H. Millard, director of the steelworkers' union, conferred with Pat Conroy, secretary of the Canadian Congress of Labor, and it was expected some move might be made later in the day to confer with the minister.

HAMILTON, (CP) — Secrecy cloaked police plans Tuesday for a showdown in the basic steel strike at the Steel Company of Canada plant.

About 400 Ontario provincial police and R.C.M.P. are in Hamilton to enforce law and order but just when they will appear at the gates of the beleaguered plant to open a path through the picket lines for workers and materials is not known.

There was some speculation that police will not appear on the lines until a final attempt is made to reach a settlement of the strike, which entered its seventh week Monday. This talk is inspired by the announcement that C. H. Millard, national director of the United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.), has gone to Ottawa and that strike discussions will take place there.

There were 48 pickets on duty at the gate of the beleaguered plant at 8:00 a.m. and 40 minutes later they were joined by workers from the Stanley Products of Canada plant who voted Monday night to strike in sympathy with Sicleo workers.

About 100 men from the plant of Norton Company of Canada went on a sympathy strike and walked in the picket line.

Jap Head Slapper Is Sent to Asylum

TOKYO, (AP)— Shumei Okawa, co-defendant with Hideki Tojo and 25 other Japanese leaders in the current international war crimes trials, has been admitted to an insane asylum. Okawa was removed from court during early stages of the trial after he startled spectators —and Tojo—by swatting Tojo's bald pate resoundingly.

Montgomery Off To Visit Quebec

FREDERICTON, (CP) — Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery ended his Maritime tour Tuesday when his big Dakota took off from Blissville airport.

As the plane swung toward Ancienne Lorette, Que., the famous British soldier looked back on his 72 hours in the Maritime provinces during which he used speedboat, plane and car to keep dates in three provincial capitals.

Monday night he relaxed in Fredericton by pulling off his boots and padding around his suite in his socks after a busy round that took him through a series of official receptions and luncheons and inspections of guards of honor.

It was a cheery and happy welcome wherever he went, despite the fog that rolled in from the Atlantic and the rain which pelted down.

He made a cheer-filled progress through the streets of the old confederation seat of Charlottetown, the only place which provided sunshine.

At Fredericton the great green lawns under the sweeping elms before the domed provincial legislature building provided a soggy amphitheatre where thousands stood and cheered Monty after he had talked with each of the several hundred veterans and disabled ex-servicemen.

Tax Exemption Decision Reversed

OTTAWA, (CP) — The senate banking committee Monday reversed its decision favoring an amendment of the Income Tax Act which would give senators the same tax exemption granted members of the commons.

The committee voted 16-2 to rescind an amendment which it had supported Aug. 22.

The amendment would have given senators exemption on their $2,000 expense allowance and would also have given tax exemption to members of the Quebec upper house on expense allowances.

Under a change in the Income Tax act—which the committee proposed further amend—members of provincial legislatures are entitled to exemption on expense allowances up to one-half of their indemnity.

JAP CRIMINAL HANGED

TOKYO, (AP)—Allied headquarters announced Tuesday the hanging at Sugamo prison Aug. 23 of Japanese army Capt. Kaichi Hirate, convicted war criminal. He was found guilty of starving, beating and causing the deaths of many—Allied prisoners, and of subsequently falsifying prison records in efforts to escape detection.

Alexander Visits Heroes Paying Big Price for Victory

Chatting informally with men in the Col. Mewburn pavilion—men who still are paying the heavy price of victory—Field Marshal Alexander Monday afternoon spent more than an hour in the hospital, walking through all the wards and rooms, sounding a word of cheer and asking many questions. In the top picture, heavy casualties is shown talking to LAC. J. Luchak, of North West Air Command, about a jaw operation. On the right is Dr. R. J. D. Williamson, ward doctor. In the lower picture the viscount talks with Cpl. Leonard Evenson, of Peace River, who is recovering from a bullet wound in his head, suffered while serving with The Lake Superior Regiment in western Europe.

Governor Has Informal Chat With Men Wounded in Action

The gallant men in Edmonton's "blighty row," in the Col. Mewburn pavilion of the University hospital and the convalescent centre in the former residence of the lieutenant-governor were visited Monday by a great soldier, His Excellency Rt. Hon. Viscount Alexander of Tunis, governor-general of Canada.

Accompanied by Lady Alexander and other members of the vice-regal party, Field Marshal Alexander remained at the Col. Mewburn pavilion for more than an hour, walking through every ward and chatting informally with the men who still are paying the heavy price for victory in Italy and northwestern Europe.

Words Of Cheer

Seriously wounded veterans of both the First and Second Great Wars were recipients of warm handclasps and words of cheer and encouragement from the great Allied war leader.

When the patient was a man who had served in the Mediterranean area, where Field Marshal Alexander had been in command, the chats were longer and in greater detail.

He also was anxious to learn what the wounded men planned to do following their periods of hospitalization and what they had done prior to service in the forces.

One man who interested the vice-regal visitor in particular was Cpl. Leonard Evenson, Peace River, who is recovering from a bullet wound in the head. Evenson was hit while serving with the Lake Superior Regiment in western Europe on April 24, 1943.

Talks To Flier

FO. Pierre Gariepy, 10145 123 st., son of Ald. Gariepy, was another patient who occupied the interest of Field Marshal Alexander during his tour.

FO. Gariepy suffered severe injuries in a plane crash in England in 1944.

Field Marshal Alexander had words of encouragement for him and the many other veterans who are fighting a silent war.

Veterans Tell History

Veterans of the First Great War and some who served in South Africa in the Boer War were busy telling their histories to the distinguished visitor.

At the old Government House convalescent home, the governor-general received a welcome that proved once again that old soldiers never die.

There where 47 veterans are regaining health, the vice-regal party was greeted officially by H. Currie, manager of the establishment.

Patients were seated in the large front sitting room and the visitor went from one to another shaking hands and chatting.

Paddy Walsh, who saw service with the 9th Field Artillery R.C.A., in the Second Great War and the 24th British Field Hospital unit in the South African War, intrigued Viscount Alexander.

Another was David McAlonen who was with the 2nd CMR's in the South African campaign at the turn of the century.

When the vice-regal party left the building three hearty army cheers for Field Marshal Alexander rang out.

Reveals One-Time Anti-Red Plot Seize Power With Japanese Aid

MOSCOW, (AP)—Secret details of a 30-year-old plot by anti-Bolshevik Russian emigres in the Orient to gain power in Russia with Japanese aid were recounted in a crowded court room Tuesday by a grizzled old man notorious throughout the Soviet Union for a quarter-century as the "white bandit of Siberia."

Gen. Gregory Semenov, Cossack counter revolutionary leader and one-time Czarist officer who said he had plotted to assassinate Lenin, unfolded the details of the plot on Tuesday as his trial, along with that of seven co-defendants on charges of armed struggle against the Soviet Union, went into its second day before the military collegium of the Soviet supreme court.

Col.-Gen. Vasili V. Ulrich, president of the court, who presided at the 1936 Moscow trials, listened impassively as his government's arch enemy testified glibly of mass killings, huge money gifts from Japan and secret details of espionage in the Far East.

The defendants, captured in Manchuria by the Red army during the war with Japan, included Czarist Prince Ukhtonsky, and all pleaded guilty to indictments charging them with armed struggle against the Soviet Union, espionage, diversionary acts and terrorism.

The pale, shabbily-dressed defendants, whose ages range up to 70 years, gave their names: Semenov, Ikhtonsky, Razzayevsky, Shkhaliov, Suponov, Vlasievsky, Bakcheyev and Akiotin. Most of them had served as junior officers in the czar's army.

Semenov testified he once turned down a Japanese offer of 20,000,000 gold yen to lead a counter-revolution in Siberia, saying it was too little. He said he once commanded 50,000 troops fighting the Bolsheviks in Siberia.

After the final Bolshevist victory, Semenov testified, he fled to Manchuria, where during the 1920's and later, he and other White Russians worked with the Japanese in plans for seizing Siberia and using it as a base for crushing the Soviet Union in Europe. From that time, up until Japan's defeat in 1945, Semenov said he had the backing of Generals Araki, Terauchi, Tanaka and others. Japan's regard was to have been Siberia.

Alexanders Defeat Athertons at Golf

WINNIPEG, (CP)—Ray Atherton, United States ambassador to Canada who passed through here Monday night on his way from Jasper to Ottawa, told reporters he and Mrs. Atherton had been "soundly beaten" by Viscount and Lady Alexander in a golf game at Jasper.

"I hate to admit it," he grinned, "but we were."

Decide All 5 Fliers Died in Slav Crash

BELGRADE, (AP)— Officers of the United States graves registration commission said sufficient evidence was found Monday at the scene of the wreckage of a shot-down American transport plane to determine all five crew members had died in the crash.

The plane was shot down Aug. 19 by two Yugoslav warmid craft near Bled, in northwest Yugoslavia close to the Austrian frontier.

The finding of four left feet and the evidence of part of another left foot pointed almost indisputably to the fact the five men perished in the flaming wreckage, the officers said.

C.C.F. Amendment Supported by House

OTTAWA, (CP)—The commons Tuesday voted 69-41 in favor of a C.C.F. motion calling on the government to reconsider its decision to discontinue the producer milk subsidy as from Sept. 30, but the vote did not mean the defeat of the government.

Before the vote was taken, Reconstruction Minister Howe said the government would welcome a non-party vote on the motion, moved by A. M. Nicholson (C.C.F., Mackenzie). As a result all pairing was called off and more than 20 Liberals, including Walter Tucker, parliamentary assistant to Veterans Minister Mackenzie, joined in supporting the motion.

The motion, moved in the form of an amendment to a motion to go into supply for the resumption of the study of estimates, also was supported by C.C.F., Progressive Conservative, Social Credit and some Independent members.

Cabinet ministers and Liberals from various sections of the country opposed the motion.

Mr. Howe said that in his opinion the motion went far beyond asking the house to express the opinion that the government reconsider its decision to discontinue the producer subsidy of 55 cents per 100 pounds of whole milk.

Looking at Progressive Conservative benches, he said those who had publicly asked for the removal of controls would do well to consider the motion before voting on it. If the motion were carried it could be taken as an expression that the house wanted the government to continue indefinitely its subsidy program which was costing the country approximately $100,000,000 annually.

Part of "Regimentation"

During the war the economy of the country had to be preserved at all costs. The policy of subsidies was part of the regimentation of the people which now should be done away with, he said.

Sparked by the C.C.F., members of the Social Credit party and J. S. Simoti (Lib., Springfield) and George Cruikshank (Lib., Fraser Valley) asked the government to abandon the policy announced last March that the producer subsidy of 55 cents per hundred pounds be discontinued Sept. 30, at that time it also was announced that the consumer subsidy of two cents a quart would be discontinued as from June 1 last and that control on milk would be returned to the provincial boards at that time.

The amendment, moved by A. M. Nicholson (C.C.F., Mackenzie), urged that the house record its opinion that consideration should be given to continuance of the producers' subsidy in order to ensure an adequate return to producers and to make it possible for the consumer to have milk without any further price increase.

Wants Assurance

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, asked for assurance that the question of the subsidies would be considered "anew and specially."

Acting Prime Minister St. Laurent gave his assurance that before Oct. 1 there will be a new consideration given to what may be in the best interests in respect to continuation of the subsidy without putting a burden on the general population."

John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, said the danger of the subsidy had been pointed out at its inception during the war.

Second U. S. Town Rejects U. N. Site

NEW YORK, (CP) — Residents of Harrison, N. Y., which is involved in the proposed site for a permanent United Nations home, have voted down by an overwhelming the peace organization, adding to a series of rebuffs which Clark M. Eichelberger, director of the American Association for the United Nations said was "approaching a disgrace to the American people."

In a postcard poll conducted by the Chamber of Commerce the Harriston results was 3,000 against the U.N. and 1,050 in favor of welcoming it.

Mr. Eichelberger charged the United States government had evaded "an important responsibility" by failing to find a permanent home for the U. N.

He said the government should have appointed a high commissioner to take the lead in selecting a site instead of leaving it for the U.N. committee to deal direct with local communities.

The U.N. proposal to take over a site in Westchester where large numbers of people would have to be removed to other areas, has brought bitter blasts of criticism from the people concerned and a U.N. official speaking at a local community meeting recently was booed loudly.

Says Canada Bars U. S. Weapons Link

NEW YORK, (CP)—The Daily News, in a dispatch Tuesday from Washington columnist Ted Lewis, said United States authorities recently sounded out Canada on the hemispherical program by which all countries in the Americas would use United States type of equipment and ammunition but that Canada declined to go along.

"Our northern neighbor served notice it would stick to the British set-up," the dispatch said.

Lewis said United States army defence installations in the Aleutians, Alaska, Canada, Newfoundland and Greeland are in the secret category for security reasons.

Says Farm Strike Would Be Disgrace

Attacking union leadership in Canada, R.M. MacCrimmon, Fort Saskatchewan farmer, in a prepared public statement Monday voiced his criticisms on the threatened strike of some 20,000 members of the Alberta Farmers' Union, whose delegation, now in Ottawa, proposes to call out its membership on a withholding strike of farm produce unless the federal government accedes to its demand to set up a fact-finding board to establish parity prices.

On Meat Council

Mr. MacCrimmon, who is a member of the advisory council of the Canadian meat board, in expressing his personal opinion, said he believed that union leadership in Canada was betraying its membership and that, "wittingly or unwittingly I believe some of the executive councils and heads of Canada's unions have conspired to sell down the river, auto chaos and poverty the trusting membership of the good people whose toil and faith have built these towers for smooth but sinister and ruthless sawdust Caesars, to play their ignoble parts in bringing the foundations of Canadian democracy."

He noted that the A.F.U. strike delegation was now in Ottawa to present a brief of "unreasonable demands."

He said the A.F.U. delegation was "drunk with the wine of power" in the result of the strike vote. From its public statements it was not a democratic bargaining association but rather, "shock troops, armed not with a brief but with an ultimatum to which the government must accede."

"Such things are not seriously considered by thinking democrats," said the meat board councillor.

Scores A.F.U.

In scoring the A.F.U. for threatening a total tie-up of industry unless its demands were met, Mr. MacCrimmon said "a withholding strike of farm produce at this time would be nothing short of a national disgrace."

He called on union leaders who had publicly stated that this was no time to disrupt the industrial machinery of Canada with strikes and appealed to all members of the A.F.U. locals " not to tie their wagon to a jalopy of impatience but rather to proceed with production instead of retarding it.

Army Commences 'Operation North'

Five patrols of reserve army personnel were on their way north from Dawson Creek Tuesday, forming Operation North, an army exercise heading for Whitehorse on the Alaska highway.

Brig.-Gen. F. F. Worthington, commanding general, Western Army Command, flew to Fort St. John Tuesday to take command of the operation designed to give the soldiers experience in the north and familiarize themselves with conditions along the highway.

The party is travelling on the Alaska highway in vehicles in daily stages and is expected back in Edmonton about Sept. 5.

Say Calgary Strike Is Nearing Solution

CALGARY, (CP)— William Longridge, business agent for local 800, International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, said Tuesday the dispute between one of three strike-bound iron works plants and the union "is nearing solution."

Wages are the main point at issue.

Since late in June, 230 members of the union have been on strike at the Dominion Bridge company, the Riverside Iron Works and the Calgary Iron Works. The first two plants are under joint management.

Mayor Watson attempted unsuccessfully to bring labor and management together and efforts by the Alberta government arbitration board also have failed so far to bring a settlement.

MRS. PROCTER, O.B.E.

Varsity to Honor Mrs. R. Procter

Second woman in the university's history to be so honored, Mrs. Richard Procter, O.B.E., will receive the honorary degree of doctor of laws in a special convocation at the University of Alberta in October.

In making the announcement Tuesday, Mr. Justice Frank Ford, retiring chancellor, said the senate had voted the degree last spring but had awaited the return of the president, Dr. Robert Newton, from Britain. The degree will be conferred by the new chancellor-elect, Dr. G. Fred McNally.

Recognize Services

The announcement said members of the senate were actuated by their desire to recognize Mrs. Procter's war service.

Life member in the Red Cross society, Mrs. Procter supervised the war work of all volunteer women workers of that organization in northern Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Her two sons, Sqdn. Ldr. Richard Campbell Procter and Maj. Robert L. Procter, both graduates of the university, were killed on active service, but she carried on her work unfalteringly.

Holds Many Posts

Mrs. Procter in 1904 was president of the 1st Victorian Order hospital at Swan River, Man., and is commissioner of Girl Guides for northern Alberta, provincial convenor of the Canadian Handicrafts guild, Edmonton supervisor of packing in the national clothing drive in 1945, and holds other positions in community life.

She was awarded the O.B.E. in the Dominion Day honors list and this spring was chosen for the Junior Chamber of Commerce citizenship award.

The degree will be conferred with that to be received by Dr. J. B. Collip, director of the research institute of endocrinology, McGill university.

Only other woman to receive an honorary degree from Alberta was Mrs. Mary Irene Parlby in 1935.

Nuernberg Trials To End This Week

NUERNBERG, (AP)— Lord Justice Sir Geoffrey Lawrence, presiding British justice, said Tuesday the international military tribunal intends to finish this week-end the nine-months-old trial of 22 German war leaders and seven Nazi organizations accused of crimes against humanity.

Sir Geoffrey, president of the tribunal, made the announcement after defence counsel for the German high command had requested permission to bring another witness from the Dachau war prisoner camp in an effort to refute testimony by Maj.-Gen. Walter Schreiber, German staff officer who said the Germans were planning bacteriological warfare.

The closing phases of the trial—which started Nov. 20, 1945—have been marked by apparent defence efforts to stall for time, reflected in requests for permission to question new witnesses and submit affidavits some of which, in the words of the tribunal, "have little or no bearing on the case."

Low Blasts C. B. C. On CKUA Ruling

(By John Bird)

OTTAWA.—In opposing the government's radio bill Saturday Social Credit Leader Solon Low asked a board of appeal be set up over the heads of the C.B.C. and cited the corporation's treatment of Alberta's station, C.K.U.A. as unfair.

In June, 1944, said Mr. Low, it was decided the university should make agreement with the Alberta Government Telephones for transfer of the license to the latter body "which had the money and the management" to make a success of the station.

Thereupon application was made for a private commercial broadcasting license, it being contended Edmonton could readily support three commercial stations, the same number as Calgary. After months of delay, this application had been refused by Walter A. Rush, C.B.C. controller, on the ground CKUA's license had been granted for educational purposes and "having reviewed all circumstances surrounding the radio stations in Edmonton with respect to commercial field" the board felt obliged to deny application for a commercial license.

Mr. Low maintained that according to Clem L. King, executive assistant to the president, University of Alberta, the original license issued to the university when it bought the station was a private commercial license.

The government of Alberta then applied for a 50,000 watt station to be set up near red Deer with power enough to serve the north. Low said he understood the C.B.C. projected a 50,000 watt station of its own near Red Deer but designed to serve southern Alberta primarily. He suspected the C.B.C. was getting in there first "before the province of Alberta made itself too province of Alberta made itself too vocal."

Allied Veterans Return to Reich

HEREFORD, Germany, (AP)—A new problem for occupation authorities is the demobilized Allied soldier who finds that civilian life back home falls to meet his expectations and snuggles himself back into Germany.

"We are getting quite a few of these cases," said a British official.

What impels a soldier, given a chance to enjoy placid life at home, to return to these bomb-shattered cities—particularly when a United Stetes army survey shows that the highest hope of many Germans is to leave the country and start life anew elsewhere?

Officials say there are at least three reasons:

Some have fallen in love with German girls and want to return to them.

Adventurous types, after years in the army, find life at home dull. The rough and tumble atmosphere of post-war Germany seems more exciting.

Some can't find jobs at home, or jobs as well-paying as they want.

One illegal immigrant told a simple story. He just donned his uniform again, joined a party of soldiers returning to Germany from leave in England and arrived undetected. He lived here six months without a ration card or official entry at any mess before he was discovered.

As punishment, he was ordered —not to stay in Germany—but to keep out for five years.

Sought Short Term But Gets Long One

L'ORIGNAL, Ont., (CP)—Thomas Ritchie, 32, of Montreal, was sentenced to 25 years in Kingston penitentiary when he appeared before Magistrate Rhael Labrosse Monday on three charges arising from his attempted robbery of the Royal Bank of Canada branch at Embrun, Ont., last Aug. 16. He pleaded guilty to all three charges.

The magistrate declined to consider a request by Ritchie for a short prison term with lashes, saying he considered him an enemy of society who should be locked up for a long time.

Horse Meat Said Shipped as Beef

HALIFAX, (CP)—Large quantities of horse meat from Cumberland county has been shipped to Halifax as boneless beef, prices board officials said Monday. The meat now was being held in storage here for shipment to Prince Edward Island as fox feed.

An official said several Halifax firms had purchased the "boneless beef" in good faith. Later authorities became suspicious, he said, when rumors began to spread that "a horse was worth more dead than alive."

The Halifax firms who made the purchase co-operated with the prices board and R.C.M.P. in the resulting investigation but authorities struck a snag when they tried to establish the nature of the shipments.

"As there is no bone in it, it is difficult to distinguish between horse meat and boneless beef," the official said.

"We had to send it to the R.C.M.P. laboratory in Regina. Into the samples sent to Regina went portions from several shipments which were in cold storage in Halifax. All came back marked 'definitely horse meat.'"

The official was unable to say whether any of the horse meat reached the market here but he added that the meat was fit for human consumption.

He said, however, that the price ceiling on horse meat is six cents a pound while boneless beef could be sold for 17 cents "and the naked eye couldn't tell it from cutter quality beef."

Many Seek Drive Blue River Road

Numerous inquiries are being received concerning the possibility of motor travel from Edmonton over the Blue River section of the Jasper highway, according to W.C. Caton, secretary-manager of the Edmonton branch of the Alberta Motor association.

Inquiries are being received from various parts of the country, including eastern Canada, and the U.S. These ask when it is likely that the road from Edmonton to the coast will be open to general traffic.

Information received at A.M.A. offices indicates that while some work is being done in improving the road which was "cut through" in the fall of 1944, the highway is not yet open to general traffic. There is one 20-mile section that has to be brought to proper shape.

Mr. Caton said many complaints over the condition of Alberta roads have been received from U.S. tourists who have arrived here.

"Our roads are getting us a lot of bad publicity in the U.S.," he said.

A recent circular sent to all travel agencies by the American Automobile association says some roads in southern Alberta, including roads to Lake Louise, were "terrible beyond description."

Expect Important Food Conference

LONDON, (CP) — Government spokesmen said Food Minister Strachey and Agriculture Minister Williams will attend the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization conference in Copenhagen starting Sept. 2, indicating the importance attached to the conference by the government.

Sir John Boyd Orr, director-general of the F.A.O. who has proposed a world food board to buy unmarketable surpluses on the world market to prevent price collapses, said in Portarahire, Scotland, that there could be no danger of the proposed board becoming overstocked with wheat.

Support of Sir John's proposed board, scheduled for discussion at the 50-power F.A.O. conference, is expected from Canada and the United States.

Godbout Declares Keeping Party Lead

STE. ROSE, Que., (CP)—Canada's constitution must be remade to meet new conditions and new times, Adelard Godbout, Liberal opposition leader in the provincial legislature, declared Sunday at an open-air meeting.

Mr. Gobout denied recent reports predicting his resignation as provincial Liberal leader.

He intended to retain his leadership and lead the Liberal party back into power at Quebec, he declared.

Mr. Godbout referred to the Dominion-provincial conference and said Ottawa had called the provinces together to study with them an offer, but that Mr. Duplessis had merely said no. Results of Mr. Duplessis' refusal to co-operate with Ottawa were that the province had lost $$55,000,000 a year, he said.

Yugoslavia Seeks Huge Reparations

PARIS, (AP) — Yugoslavia has demanded $1,300,000,000 reparations from Italy, it was disclosed Monday with publication of the complete list of Yugoslavia's proposed amendments to the five European peace treaties.

The Yugoslav reparations demand exceeded by $300,000,000 the reparations Russia has demanded of all her European enemies.

The reparations amendment proposed payments to Yugoslavia from a share of industrial equipment useful in munitions manufacture, the Italian merchant fleet and surplus gold coin from the bank of Italy.

Says Jews Want Own 'Statehood'

JERUSALEM, (AP)—Jews will insist upon discussion of a plan envisioning Jewish statehood as one of three conditions for participation in British-sponsored conferences on Palestine, it was disclosed Sunday with release of part of a letter from Dr. Chaim Weizmann to Colonial Secretary George Hall.

Meanwhile, Dr. Izzat Tannous, former secretary of the Palestine Arab committee, predicted solid Arab opposition to Zionism eventually would result in formation of a "United States of Arabia," binding eight Arab nations into a loosely knit confederation.

Dr. Weizmann's letter, written by the head of the world Zionist organization Aug. 16, said representatives of the Jewish agency would not participate in discussions on any federation plan as proposed by the British government.

Besides the plan for Jewish statehood, the other two conditions Dr. Weizmann posed were:

1. That the Jewish agency have full freedom to designate its own delegates, including any who may be held by British authorities.

2. That the agency, in consultation with the British government issue all invitations for membership in a Jewish delegation, with the understanding it would include "representatives of other important bodies and organizations."

BAGDAD, (Reuters)—The Iraq government has conditionally accepted the British invitation to the projected talks on Palestine in London, it was learned here.

Report on Coal Expected Soon

OTTAWA, (CP)—Reconstruction Minister Howe said Monday in the commons he had been informed the report of the royal commission on the coal industry would be in the hands of the government within the next two months.

The minister said the writing of the report was "well in hand."

The coal supply situation in eastern Canada "was far from good." The American strike coupled with domestic conditions had created a bituminous coal shortage that was "by no means acute," he said.

The domestic coal picture was not so bright. After the close of navigation supplies would be on a "hand to mouth" basis.

The anthracite situation was "fairly" good.

Angus MacInnis (C.C.F., Vancouver East) asked if the government had studied the cause of low production, if there was low production, in Nova Scotia. The minister said it was related to the low ratio of skilled men.

He said independent mines in Nova Scotia subsidized to the extent of 65 cents a ton, in New Brunswick $1 a ton, in Vancouver Island 65 cents and in Alberta from 40 to 65 cents.

Charge Material Is Diverted To Non-Essential Buildings

By H. R. Hardy

OTTAWA. — Canada's housing problem got another good dusting off in the commons Monday night when a number of members charged home-building material was going into breweries, bowling alleys, motion picture theatres and other such structures, while veterans needing homes had to parade to Parliament Hill to demand consideration of their plight.

Answering some of the charges, George McIlraith, (Lib., Ottawa West) and parliamentary assistant to Reconstruction Minister Howe, said jurisdiction had been given to the municipalities to decide what buildings should be erected. Many had not chosen to exercise their power, although some had.

"I understand some municipalities do exercise the power and do reject applications for building permits for such things as have been under criticism tonight. Others do not," said Mr. McIlraith.

Mr. Howe said the problem was one of distribution of materials. It was a matter of distributing material after the prices board had allotted it to various municipalities.

Pointing out that those officers retired at a "comparatively young" age, he said they would saddle the country for 20 to 25 years with a financial load that was "out of all proportion" to other pensions.

Capt. Probe's objections came before second reading was given a bill to amend the Militia pension act. The bill later was passed.

Lt.-Col. Hugues Lapointe, parliamentary assistant to Defence Minister Abbott, said it would bring the present act into line with the Civil Service Superannuation act. It would permit time served on active service during the recent war to be included in the pensionable term of service of persons appointed to the permanent force prior to April 1, 1946.

It extends to all members who join after that date the obligation of contributing toward their future pensions, allowances and gratuities.

Formerly, only officers and warrant officers contributed and only their widows and children were protected. The change covers all new members of the post-war army and all old members who so elect.

Put Burglar Alarm In Police Station

BOSTON.(AP)—A burglar alarm system was installed—in the Boston police headquarters building. Without explanation, officers were fixing the mechanical device for added protection to the ballistics department. There quantities of armaments at ammunition are stored.

Headquarters, guarded by a 24-hour door swatch, houses offices of the commissioner, his deputies and about 100 detectives.

Protests Pensions For High Officers

OTTAWA, (CP) — Capt. John Probe (C.C.F., Regina) told the commons Monday he took "violent exception" to the high level of pensions for Canada's senior permanent force officers when old age pensions stood as "miserable pittances."

Pointing out that those officers retired at a "comparatively young" age, he said they would saddle the country for 20 to 25 years with a financial load that was "out of all proportion" to other pensions.

Capt. Probe's objections came before second reading was given a bill to amend the Militia pension act. The bill later was passed.

WELLINGTON, N.Z., (Reuters) —Parliamentary circles said New Zealand, Australia and Britain are pressing objections to Gen. MacArthur's proposal that the Japanese should resume whaling in the Antarctic.

Britain and the dominions were reported urging that the expedition should be an Allied undertaking with Japanese participation limited.

Rio Now Looks Like Bombed City

RIO DE JANEIRO, (Reuters)—Rio, remote from wartime destruction today has the appearance of a bombed city in Europe.

Rio, often considered one of the world's most beautiful cities, now presents to the sightseer great mounds of rubble.

It is a city with plenty of cigarettes, no matches to light them; no bread, little butter, and less milk; the water supply is an uncertain trickle; there is a terrific housing shortage.

All these things are the work of man. The city has gone cannibal and turned upon itself.

Rio, with acute growing pains, is penned into a narrow coastal strip by a range of mountains. Unable to expand normally, it is turning to the Manhattan formula of skyscrapers. Every day private mansions are being pulled down to make way for new buildings. Whole blocks are demolished.

The people of Rio have three categories for the road craters. They describe them as: small, large, atomic.

The water shortage is a direct result of the building boom, for pipes designed to serve private homes are suddenly being called upon to serve a 20-storey block of flats.

The shortage of matches, butter and bread is due to an effort by producers to get higher prices.

The bread shortage is due to lack of wheat, and the transport shortage to lack of equipment.

Wild Slump Seen In Rye Futures

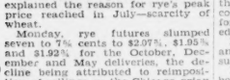

WINNIPEG, (CP)— Rye, with its wild price trail of this last few weeks involving a more-than-$1-a-bushel slump from an all-time high of $3.15, called attention Tuesday to the coarse grains pit of the Winnipeg grain exchange.

In three words grain trading men explained the reason for rye's peak price reached in July—scarcity of wheat.

Monday, rye futures slumped seven to 7¾ cents to $2.07⅝, $1.95⅝ and $1.92⅜ for the October, December and May deliveries, the decline being attributed to reimposition of ceilings on the Chicago grain market and reports of bumper western Canada yields. These were a wide decline from July's top price of $3.15 a bushel.

When the vice-regal party visited the convalescent home for veterans in the former Government House, Lord Marshal Alexander chatted for awhile with David McAlmont, above, who served in the South African campaign at the turn of the century with the 2nd Canadian Mounted Rifles. Says Gun Carrier 'Amuses Children'

By H. R. Hardy

OTTAWA.—At least one member of parliament has sampled goods sold through War Assets Corporation and has found them satisfactory.

Rodney Adamson, (Prog.-Conn., York West), told the commons Monday night he had purchased a universal carrier and a pair of airmen's boots.

"You must have had influence," quipped Reconstruction and Supply Minister Howe, but Mr. Adamson explained he had purchased the universal carrier for $200.

Mr. Adamson said he had heard about the sale of the carriers only through chance. Living in the country he had found it very handy for hauling lumber and it "amused the children."

Mr. Adamson thought War Assets and its agents were not advertising such articles widely enough.

H said he bought the flying boots at a Toronto store and paid $12.50 for them.

See Termination Of London Strike

LONDON, (Reuters) — London's six-day-old milk strike, which left 1,000,000 without milk during the week-end showed signs of terminating Tuesday as workers at three of the eight distributing and processing depots originally strike-bound decided to return to work Wednesday pending negotiations.

Their decision will mean resumed milk supplies for 600,000 persons. The depots are the Woolwich and Mitcham Dairies of the Royal Arsenal Cooperative society, and the Croydon Dairy of the South Suburban Cooperative Society. Process workers at Battersea went back to their jobs Tuesday.

The unofficial strike was called for shorter hours and higher pay.

Hitler Planned Germ War, Claim

NUERNBERG, (AP) — A German general told the international military tribunal Monday that in July, 1943, Hitler entrusted Goering with the task of carrying out preparations for waging bacteriological warfare.

Maj.-Gen. Walter Schreiber said an institute was established near Poznan, Poland, where bacteriological cultures were to be produced on a large scale and experiments carried out.

Only the time needed to produce enough cultures to be effective and the necessity of developing serum to protect German soldiers and civilians prevented the plan being in action, Schreiber said.

Moscow Protests Greek Criticism

ATHENS, (CP)—Stephanos Stephanopoulos, acting foreign minister, said Monday night K. K. Rodionov, Russian ambassador to Greece, had protested formally attacks against Russia in the Greek press and a ban in certain Greek districts against Soviet motion pictures.

Two royalist morning newspapers in Athens will be prosecuted for anti-Russian expression as a result of the protest, Stephanopoulos said, and the banning of the films will be investigated.

Old Frenchy a Joke But He Had $60,000

NEW YORK, (AP) John (Old Frenchy) Sucher was known to the crowd at McSorley's Old Ale House in Greenwich village as a waiter who "wouldn't pay a dime to see Joe Louis jump off the Brooklyn bridge."

For 13 hours a day, year in and out, he carried food through the sawdust of New York's oldest saloon, a copy of a financial journal stuck in a hip pocket. His perusal of financial news was always good for a laugh among the regular customers.

Last January he was found dead in his $13-a-month room on the lower east side. Police turned some papers they found there over to the public administrator's office.

Monday the public administrator's office revealed Old Frenchy died without kin and with only one mystery. The papers contained a pack of 450 stocks and bonds he had purchased over the years and worth $60,000.

Boy Injured in Fall Finally Talks Again

CHICAGO, (AP) — Twelve-year-old Melvin Carlson, speechless since he fell four stories on May 20, grinned from his hospital bed Monday and said "Hello, Mom".

Melvin had been in a coma since his fall and doctors were uncertain whether he might speak again.

His mother, Mrs. Esther Carlson, 35, never gave up hope. From her son's bedside she maintained she saw signs of improvement each day.

"I know it will be a long, slow process," she said, "but Melvin will get completely well."

Hospital doctors said Monday they, too, saw definite signs of improvement.

Millions Set Aside For West Airlines

OTTAWA, (CP)—Reconstruction Minister Howe told the commons Monday it "is true the cost of operating aviation facilities in Canada are greater in excess of the revenue derived therefrom."

Hugh Castleden, (C.C.F., Yorkton) asked how many airports had been turned over to the department by the R.C.A.F. Mr. Howe said there were about 183, mostly relief fields, and none had been disposed of.

Under reconversion, there was $8,163,000 for construction and improvement of airfields and radio services. This included $2,186,000 for the Edmonton-Winnipeg route, chiefly for the Saskatoon airport and certain radio beams; $1,155,300 for the main T.C.A. route; $1,993,400 for the Great Lakes route from Toronto to Winnipeg; $391,000 for the Mackenzie river route.

Operation Helps Mental Patients

WEYBURN, Sask., (CP)—About 70 percent of "violent, dangerous" mental patients have improved following brain operations at the Weyburn mental hospital, Dr. H. Schultz, superintendent of the hospital said here Monday.

The operations called pre-frontal enectomony and first done at Brandon three years ago have been performed on 21 patients, Dr. Schultz said in an address before the Rotary club.

The operation consists of cutting fibres in the front part of the brain to the central point, he said. Patients must be retrained in behaviour following operations.

All operations are done only with consent of family of the patient.

Increasing Demand For Prairie Labor

WINNIPEG, (CP) — Fred J. White, regional superintendent of the unemployment insurance commissio at Winnipeg, said Tuesday there was a steady increase in labor demand throughout the prairies and a decrease in the number applying for unemployment insurance.

During the five-week period ending Aug. 15 there were 14,735 unfilled male vacancies, an increase of nearly 1,000 over the number at July 4. Approximately 30 percent of this is for loggers, 23 for heavy labor, and 15 percent for skilled construction workers and miners.

In the female division there were 5,648 vacancies, 55 percent for service workers and 20 percent for clerical and saleswork rers. During the period 20,703 male and female workers were placed in jobs.

Judge Just Fooling In Shotgun Advice

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., —(AP)— Plagued with letters and telephone calls from many parts of the United States, Judge Robert W.B. Terrell in effect was only fooling when he recommended last week an army colonel "take a 12-gauge shotgun" and "finish off his wife's suitor, Texas style."

Some letters accused him of advocating premeditated murder. Judge Terrell said.

In answer to them all, Judge Terrell read the following statement in his courtroom:

"I made a humorous statement from the bench last week about a 12-gauge shotgun and some people are now saying Judge Terell is advocating premeditated murder from the bench.

"I didn't know anyone in the country had auch low intelligence."

Montreal Schools Delayed by "Polio"

MONTREAL, (CP) — Postponment of the opening of all schools under the jurisdiction of the Montreal Catholic school commission and the Montreal Protestant school board to Sept. 10 and possibly later because of the infantile paralysis epidemic was announced Monday.

Latest figures showed 265 Montreal cases reported, of which 10 had died.

Miss Denna Barthel, 19, of North Liberty Indianna, who got a job as a gravedigger to get funds to pursue her musical education.

Seven Polio Cases Total for City

Edmonton's infantile paralysis cases reported to the city health department rose to seven Monday when it was discovered that a four-year-old boy in the east end of the city was suffering from the disease.

Three cases were reported during last week from points outside the city and are receiving treatment in the isolation hospital. This brings to 21 the number of country cases registered at the hospital, according to a report filed Tuesday with the city commissioners by Dr. G.M. Little, medical officer for health.

A case of undulant fever, a woman resident in the east end, was reported to the department during last week, according to the report. Source of the disease has not been determined.

Also reported last week was a case of typhoid fever. This case originated in the Breton district, and was brought to Edmonton for treatment.

Seattle Assesses Elaborate Yacht

SEATTLE, (AP)—Notice of a $200,000 assessed valuation of the British yacht Fantome for each of the last seven years, since the vessel has been moored here, has been sent to the ship's owner, A. E. Guinness, English ale manufacturer. County assessor Ralph S. Stacy said the tax for the seven years would total about $17,500.

The $200,000 figure is half the ship's actual value as appraised by the assessor's office. The elaborate yacht, bought by Guinness for a reported $1,000,000 was here on a cruise at outbreak of the war.

Try To Save Child By Atomic Energy

BOSTON, (AP)—The last of three doses of a by-product of death-dealing atomic energy was given a three-year-old child Monday night in an experiment to keep her alive.

Little Janice Moschella slipped rare radio-activated phosphorus — prepared on the University of Illinois cyclotron—shortly after doctors gave her a blood transfusion to keep her from succumbing from a malignant infection of the liver.

Dr. Saul Hertz, Boston specialist, said it would be about three weeks before the results of the first publicized attempt to cure with atomic energy will be known.

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif., (AP)—Five months treatment with "atomic bullets" of radioactive phosphorus failed to save the life of Gary Lee Burk, four-year-old victim of lymphatic leukemia, who died Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leafer Burk.

Film Expedition Back from Alaska

FORT ST. JOHN. — Members of the Alaska photographic expedition who have been filming and gathering information for lectures, travelogues, geographical magazines and educational purposes, have arrived here on their way to Edmonton.

In the party are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reid and their young son, of Santa Ana, California. Another member of the party, A. McCullough, remained in Anchorage visiting his sister.

Taking shots of wildlife, trees, shrubs and beauty spots, the party used 7,000 feet of film. Most of the pictures were taken in Alaska and as far north as the Arctic Circle.

Mrs. Reid, who writes magazine articles and material for her husband's lectures and travelogues, gathered much detailed information.

The party will leave Thursday for Edmonton en route to Jasper national park, Banff, limited to drive over the Big Bend highway route to Vancouver and then home to California.

Tree Ornaments In Ship's Cargo

MONTREAL — Return to the pre-war variety of international trade is seen in the cargo of Christmas tree ornaments from the low countries, Dutch garden bulbs, wall clocks and Belgian tapestry cloth in the holds of the Canadian Pacific steamship's Beaverburn, due to dock at Quebec Friday. She will arrive in Montreal Saturday.

First "Beaver" ship to call at a continental port since the war, the cargo-passenger vessel departed 38 passengers at Antwerp and loaded 1,572 tons of European goods at the Belgian port.

Passengers for Calgary are Miss Jean Lees and Miss Elizabeth Waugh while Miss Ursula Rackham is travelling to Leyminster.

B. B. C. Wave Band Jammed by Russia

By Frank Swanson

LONDON, (CP)—The B.B.C.'s new "highbrow" radio program which was due to start next month may not take to the airways as scheduled because a new Soviet station is jamming the broadcast band which was to have been used by B.B.C.

The Russian station is located in Riga, Latvia, and is one of the most powerful in Europe. At present it is used to beam broadcasts to this country.

According to B.B.C. technicians, the Reds have appropriated the wave length without referring the matter to an international arbitration, the usual procedure when a nation is contemplating the use of a new waveband. The B.B.C. plans to "investigate the situation which has arisen" but would not disclose what steps they proposed to take. They admitted that prospects of a compromise did not appear likely.

The program of the B.B.C. was due to start Sept. 29 and was to be devoted entirely to the presentation of cultural broadcasts. Arrangements were virtually completed when it was discovered that the Russians had appropriated the prospective wavelength.

Western U. S. Asks Parity Grain Prices

SEATTLE, (AP)—A Pacific Northwest committee met here Monday to map a campaign to seek wheat prices at Washington and Oregon ports on a parity with Chicago.

Representatives of farm organizations of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana met with the sub-committee of Pacific Northwest United, the new four-state promotional organization.

"We are aiming at a differential of 15 cents per bushel in the Chicago market price," said Judge Ivan Merrick of Pasco, Wash., sub-committee chairman.

Plan to Cut Static Of Electric Shavers

OTTAWA, (CP) — Reconstruction Minister Howe said Monday in the commons there were 8,740 persons convicted during the last fiscal year for failure to purchase radio receiving licenses.

Some 1,754,351 licenses were sold for $4,260,379. Of the amount $295,775 was paid in commissions and another $231,816 represented the cost of administration.

Mr. Howe said discussions now were going on with the provinces to see if the standards of electric appliances, particularly electric razors, could be raised to prevent their interference with radio reception.

DUNCAN, B.C., (CP) — Ever since the earthquake shock British Columbia had last June, strange things have been happening to Mesachie lake here.

Pre - Marital Tests

There is considerable agitation in British Columbia, at the present moment, over the failure of the provincial government of that date or of any government of any succeeding date to proclaim the Marriage Act amendment of 1938 which purported to require compulsory pre-marital tests for social disease.

This amendment was passed a full eight years ago, declare the critics, but it has never yet been translated into law. Thus, a piece of legislation which gave our coast province continent-wide leadership in the fight to supress venereal ailments has been allowed to go unimplemented to the point where that leadership has been lost.

These caustic reflections in British Columbia are provoked by the announcement of the province of Manitoba that compulsory pre-marital venereal tests will be enforced there beginning October 1.

British Columbia people are quite justified, presumably, in their indignation over the failure of any measure that might alleviate or tend to minimize this world scourge. The recent announcement of Dr. D.H. Williams of Vancouver that 300,000 Canadians are carriers of VD and that 20,000 of them are unaware of it, is quite enough to alarm anyone.

But if British Columbia hopes to achieve very much by pre-marital VD tests as they are ordinarily carried out, they are unduly optimistic.

For the province of Alberta also enjoys the alleged benefits of pre-marital VD tests and if they are carried out as unintelligently elsewhere as they are here one need not expect much from them. For. no matter how the law may read in the matter, this is actually what happens:

A young couple desires to be married and applies to the nearest registrar for a license. They are told they must produce certificates showing that they have submitted to a test. So they go to a physician where samples of their blood are taken and they are furnished with a document saying that they have furnished these blood samples. They are then married (and frequently are married in the registrar's office the very same afternoon) without the results of the tests being shown at all.

In short, whatever the law may require, the practise is that marriage may take place on proof of the test being made irrespective of whether the test is negative or positive.

That seems just about as foolish and useless as anything can possibly be. It is to be hoped that both B.C. and Manitoba will do better.

Insolence

Towards the end of last week, the Council of Canadian South Slavs, with headquarters in Toronto, deluged all parts of Canada with copies of telegrams it had allegedly sent to Marshal Tito, President Truman and the British government.

This Council of Canadian South Slavs appeared to be quite proud of the fact that it had addressed Marshal Tito "in the names of thousands of Yugoslavs in Canada . . . as well as thousands of other Canadians" to assure him of their full sympathy with his efforts to "guard the sovereign rights of Yugoslavia". This telegram also denounced the aim of "imperialistic powers" to make Yugoslavia a "colony".

The telegram to President Truman and the British government was even more insolent. For these were told that the sole responsibility for the strained relations between Yugoslavia and the United States rested with London and Washington.

ever racial origin are entitled to their full

One presumes that Canadians of whatdemocratic belief in whatever angle of international relations which happens to appeal to them.

But there will be some slight objection on the part of most Canadians to the impertinent presumption of any group in pretending to voice the opinion of the Canadian people particularly in offensive telegrams to foreign powers and to the British government.

It would seem, offhand, that this particular group of South Slavs would make a better first of their chosen career in this country if they would buckle down to the business of being Canadians first and leave the matter of diplomatic representations to constituted Canadian authority.

There is probably nothing vicious nor actually disloyal in the attitude of these people. But there is something decidedly mischievous and insolent — a quality which is the last to be required among immigrants of any kind seeking admission to this country.

The Polio Epidemic

It would be useless to pretend that the epidemic of infantile paralysis has not reached serious, though not yet alarming, proportions. As compared with previous epidemics from January 1 to the end of July in each year since 1937, the Minister of Health, Dr. J.J. McCann, gave the following figures to the House of Commons on August 3: 1937, 130 cases; 1938, 139 cases; 1939, 85 cases; 1940, 47; 1941, 202; 1942, 111; 1943, 43; 1944, 88; 1945, 67 and in the present epidemic 135.

As the minister reminded parliament, "actual control and treatment of the disease is primarily a matter for municipal authorities." He pointed out, further, that infantile paralysis is "a peculiar disease" which appears to run in cycles of years, that "this may be one of the cycle years" and that "there is grave danger of there being a considerable increase in the number of cases in Canada." He indicated also that "not a great deal of progress has been made in the treatment of infantile paralysis. The new drugs of which people speak so much nowadays, sulpha drugs and penicillin, are absolutely powerless against the ravages of poliomyelitis" which is caused by a virus upon which these drugs do not appear to have any effect.

No doubt there is divergence of medical opinion, but the Minister did well to use the floor of the House of Commons as a rostrum and Hansard as a medium for broadcasting professional advice to the nation's parents. He said: "First, as respects the infected individual. We suggest encouragement of as early recognition of the disease as possible. When the disease is epidemic, measures are taken to make consultant and laboratory services easily available to medical practitioners. Those laboratories are both provincial and Dominion laboratories. Second, the hospitalization of the sick as far as this is possible, with isolation of the patient for from two to three weeks. Third, disinfection of discharges from the nose, throat and bowels, and of soiled articles. Fourth, investigation as far as possible of the sources of infection to locate unrecognized and unreported cases of the disease.

"General measures which might be taken during an epidemic are: First, general warning to physicians and people generally of the prevalence of the disease, and warning of parents to report all suspicious cases for immediate medical care. Second, all children with fever should be isolated in bed pending diagnosis. Third, protection of children as far as practicable against unnecessary contact with other persons and crowds, avoiding all unnecessary visiting and travelling. Fourth, maintenance of general health of all children at as high a level as possible, with rest periods."

Columnists are reflecting on the possible diversion of history if the Japanese had learned to laugh at themselves as they are now at Tokyo performances of "The Mikado." But mightn't they be really laughing at the funny ideas Englishmen had about the Japanese of '85?

Report on Germany — 2

By DOROTHY THOMPCON
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

I continue the confidental report on Germany coming from a German whose position has made possible prolonged visits in all German occupation zones. I previously reported that whereas hope which started below zero under the Russians is rising, the greater expectations awaited from the British and Americans have been dashed and conditions become not better, but worse.

To continue:

"It is. I repeat, in the Western zones an all but general belief that the worsening food conditions are part of a conscious design to starve the German people.

Thompson

"In the British zone the contraction of industrial activity is paralyzing all spirit. Many industries full of faith and hope had made far-reaching plans for the future. But permission for even repairs is rarely granted. The Germans are repeatedly assured that economic contraction is not due to bad will but to circumstances beyond control. Most Germans believe economic restrictions are part of a policy to destroy Germany industrially."

(Mr. Molotov's sharp denunciation of the agrarianizing of Germany—a slap at the Morgenthau plan—was clearly aimed at assuaging these beliefs with credit accruing to the U.S.S.R.)

* * *

"DISILLUSIONMENT is rooted even in people intelligent enough to know that the Nazi madness could not be overcome in one year or in many. If such people who, during the whole regime, waited in hope for the day of its collapse, welcomed defeat, and during the past year have given their best, now ask themselves whether the struggle had any sense, and whether the real goal of the Allies is not the extermination of Germany and its people, that is serious, for it means the dissipation of every asset for vital reconstruction.

"Added to the overwhelming problems in the Western zones are the fugitives from the East. Most of these feel themselves uprooted and lost.

"Leading everything else in its effects on morale, is the de-Nazification program, so essential, so difficult, and administered with lack of insight, with incompetence and often gross injustice. Posts of Germany are swarming with Nazis, who, of course, support each other. In one place where notorious Nazis are in the most important positions, the occupation authorities have recently closed a kindergarden because the woman who ran it was for two years a Nazi party member, who voluntarily, and years ago, resigned from the party. Why should a physician, never active in politics, who resigned from the party in 1939, be denied unrelentable and deprived of his practice? One hears of such, and worse cases, everywhere, but it is essential that policies be revised quickly for they weigh heavily on morale.

* * *

"THE SITUATION OF YOUTH is disquieting. It is understandable that teen-agers feel neither responsibility nor guilt for the past. This is no sign of exaggerated nationalism. German youth is skeptical, certain eager for knowledge, and much more susceptible than a superficial impression leads strangers to believe. It has empty hands and empty hearts longing to be filled. But all propaganda disgusts it —including preachments about Democracy and Christianity. It is open to conviction about both, but not by talk, but example, it longs for deeds in which it can participate. But the paralysis in the Western zones drives youth towards nihilism, cynicism, and the radicalisms that embrace violence."

This summarizes, in two columns, the confidential report from all German zones.

Tucker of Saskatchewan

BY HUGH BOYD
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

There are Liberals in Saskatchewan who fear that Robert Tucker will carry the party too far to the left. But even they must admit that he requires to move somewhere. It cannot serve the province or Liberalism by lying doggo while its socialist opponents entrench themselves.

What the provincial Liberal convention hoped when it chose Mr. Tucker as leader is that the party would become infused with a more dynamic Liberalism and offer a political haven to those who call themselves progressive but don't like out-and-out socialism. Most farmers are in that category.

As a law student he worked for John Evans in the federal election of 1921, and helped send him to Parliament as the member for Saskatoon City.

Four years later he was on Harris Turner's campaign committee when that gifted speaker was running for re-election to the Saskatchewan house.

* * *

Another federal election came along in the same year, but Tucker took no part. He was struck down by typhoid which nearly cost him his life but was actually the instrument of preserving his political future. Otherwise he might have taken a Progressive nomination in Prince Albert (he had started to practice law at Rosthern by then), and equally likely, he would have been beaten.

As it was, Tucker did a lot of thinking during convalescence, and came to the decision that he had more chance of promoting his left-of-centre ideas within the Liberal party than outside it.

A Tory redistribution prior to the 1935 election created a new federal seat, Northern Tucker contested the nomination from J. F. Totzke of Humboldt, who had served 10 years in the legislature and another 10 in the house of commons. Tucker won in Rosthern with ease.

They called him a funny money man at Ottawa, but Tucker claims most of the basic monetary reforms he outlined for have been won. One was outright ownership and control of the Bank of Canada by the state. He wanted the cost of money forced down and eventually saw that accomplished too.

The Government recognized his interest in the monetary questions when it sent him as one of the delegates to the Bretton Woods conference of 1944.

But before that Walter Tucker had his second experience of army life. His first was when he went to France as a stretcher-bearer with the 12th Canadian Field Ambulance late in 1917.

Though he never got out of Canada in the second Great War, Tucker found the army almost as strenuous existence as in 1918.

* * *

For all his bulk, he is a man of restless energy. His military career was hardly over when he was in the thick of the 1941 Saskatchewan campaign.

He is giving up a job he likes, as parliamentary assistant to the minister of veterans affairs, and misgivings of even better things at Ottawa.

Back in Saskatchewan he may some day be able to apply his knowledge of servicemen's problems once again. In the meantime there is the formidable task of rebuilding a party.

Tucker has such a reputation for independence that he hardly needs to proclaim it. Those who know him are satisfied he will run the show, and not accept orders from Ottawa or anywhere else. He might be amenable to suggestions, which is a different matter.

If you must have pets don't buy a dik-dik yet. They're cute and inexpensive to keep, but they come too high just now. And if you can sit this one out until the price of wildebeests, cheetahs, white rhinoceros, rock pythons, and hyenas comes down, you'll do better too.

You won't have to wait very long. Frank Buck is sailing for Singapore next month. Could be he might take in East Africa too. And then— the old law of supply and demand. You know.

The Road Ahead

By HARPER PROWSE, MLA.
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

In yesterday's column we noted that it is most important that a people should respect the law, for it is the foundation of all our privileges and liberties. Today I want to deal with interpretation of the law.

It is obious that effectiveness of any law depends upon the efficiency and fairness observed by those whose duty it is to interpret and administer it. In Canada that task falls upon our judges. When violations of the law are charged it is the duty of the judges to decide whether the laws have been broken or not, and if they have been broken what punishments should be meted out.

The judges must first decide what the law, in words, means. This is not always simple, because no matter how well a man knows a language it is often difficult to express a meaning in words so that it will mean exactly the same thing to all men. That is why our laws are written in "legal phraseology" which seems sometimes ridiculous to the layman.

PROWSE

* * *

BECAUSE IT IS SO difficult to express any thought in words so exactly and clearly that it will have only the one intended meaning it is necessary that those whose duty it is to interpret the law should be familiar with this "legal phraseology." And in their interpretation they must be guided by previous decisions of other judges on the same or similar cases. To do this requires an expert and full knowledge of many laws, and how to interpret them. That is why we, in Canada, always appoint lawyers as judges.

To obtain fair and unbiased interpretation of the law it is important that the judge should not be guided in his judgments by any consideration other than the facts before him and what he believes to be the intention of the law. Other considerations must not creep in. For this reason we appoint our judges for life.

We are familiar with the disrespect for law which has grown up in certain parts of the United States where judges of certain courts are elected for a term of office and must seek re-election. Because these men were sometimes guided in their judgments by political considerations and the prospect of losing the support of influential persons at the next election they were known to interpret and administer the law badly.

It has been suggested that persons other than lawyers should be appointed judges, and the argument has been made that in serious cases the decision is usually left to the jury. This is fallacious. Juries judge facts, not laws. Before the jury goes out to make its decision the judge "sums up" the evidence and explains the law. He tells them what facts they should consider as important, and why, and what facts they should disregard. They merely bring in a verdict.

An integral part of our respect for law is our respect for judges. Disrespect for judges will result in disrespect for law.

Today in Europe

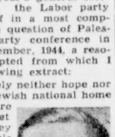

By Randolph Churchill
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON— There is often a sad contrast between the declarations of politicians when electioneering and their subsequent statements and actions when in power.

Prior to last year's general election in Britain, the Labor party committed itself in a most complete way on the question of Palestine. At the party conference in London in December, 1944, a resolution was adopted from which I quote the following extract:

"There is surely neither hope nor meaning in a Jewish national home unless we are prepared to let the Jews, if they wish, enter this tiny land in such numbers as to become a majority."

The resolution went on to refer to the possibility of transfers of population, and finally added: "Let the Arabs be encouraged to move out as the Jews move in." Later the resolution observed: "We shall examine also the possibility of extending the Palestinean boundaries by agreement with Egypt, Syria and Trans-Jordan."

RANDOLPH CHURCHILL

The Conservative party behaved in a far more responsible fashion and refrained from giving any pledges of so for reaching or preclose a character.

On the other hand, in the United States, both the Republican and Democratic parties committed themselves up to the hilt in their pre-election conventions in 1944. The Republican party statement on Palestine called for "opening Palestine to their (the Jews) unrestricted immigration and land ownership so that - - Palestine may be constituted as a free democratic commonwealth."

* * *

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY convention used almost identical words: "We favor opening Palestine for unrestricted Jewish immigration and colonization, and such a policy as to result in the establishment there of a free democratic Jewish commonwealth."

Thus we have a situation where the British Labor Party, now in power, is committed to a deliberate policy of persuading the Arabs to move out to make room for the Jews. And the Democratic party, which today constitutes the government of the United States, is committed not only to unrestricted immigration but also to the establishment of a Jewish state.

Despite these pledges, neither the British Labor government nor President Truman's administration is attempting to carry out such a policy. Even Mr. Truman has not asked for more than the admission of 100,000 Jews. And Prime Minister Attlee has made it plain that he will not accept responsibility for this modest entry without the full support and cooperation of the United States.

No doubt these election pledges on both sides of the Atlantic were sincerely given, but the hard facts of the situation compelled them to be abandoned later.

* * *

EVEN PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT less than a year after he championed a policy of unrestricted Jewish immigration and the establishment of a Jewish commonwealth, thought it necessary to write a letter to his "great and good friend", King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia, which contained the following passage:

"Your Majesty will recall that, on previous occasions, I communicated to you the attitude of the American government - - and made clear our desire that no decision be made with respect to the basic situation in that country without full consultation with both Arabs and Jews. Your Majesty will also doubtless recall that, during our recent conversation, I assured you that I would take no action which might prove hostile to the Arab people."

Why did President Roosevelt write this letter? Because early in 1945, on his way back from the Yalta conference, he had a meeting with King Ibn Saud in Egypt and sought to enlist his collaboration to persuade the Arab world to accept an increase in Jewish immigration into Palestine. Iba Saud flatly refused and Roosevelt was so impressed by his obduracy that he undoubtedly revised his opinion on the Palestinian problem. This is proved conclusively by his letter, for no one could pretend that the Arabs would regard unrestricted immigration and the creation of a Jewish state in Palestine as anything but a "hostile act."

At the time of Munich, the Chinese ambassador in London, thinking of the failure of Britain and America to resist Japanese agression in Manchuria, observed in examine also the possibility of extending the Palestinean boundaries by agreement with Egypt, Syria and Trans-Jordan."

The Conservative party behaved in a far more responsible fashion and refrained from giving any pledges of so for reaching or preclose a character.

On the other hand, in the United States, both the Republican and Democratic parties committed themselves up to the hilt in their pre-election conventions in 1944. The Bulletin's Readers Say:

THE STRIKE RACKET

Editor, Bulletin— Isn't it about time the women of the world organized, not a union to keep men from working and producing and distributing necessary and vital goods as we all need, but a union with objectives just the reverse of organized labor unions today; that is, no strikes, work regularly and with big union officials chucked out and management and labor getting together personally to adjust wages and other unsatisfactory conditions, but keeping at work in the meantime.

Who gets rich out of strikes? The only ones I know are the people who foment them, most of whom have never done an honest day's work in their lives.

They penalize the wive and families of their followers who haven't the sense or courage to realize that big union bosses get rich keeping the workers poor and discontented.

We could be the most prosperous country in the world today if every man would get down to business and do the thing the boys were overseas to fight for— a free world of employment for all.

Nehru Regarded Strong Socialist

LONDON, (Reuters) — Rationalism, ultra-modernism, western intellect and a strong Socialist outlook are the qualities that Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, President of the All-India Congress party, will bring to the newly-formed interim government as India's first prime minister.

Nehru, second only to Mohandas Gandhi in the nationalist movement in India, is a strange mixture of the highly educated western gentleman—neatly dressed, keen and quiet-mannered—and an ardent convert to Gandhi's program of civil disobedience.

He spent his early life in England's select Harrow public school and at Trinity College, Cambridge.

Back in India, Nehru was in and out of prison many times after he came into prominence during the home-rule agitation. In jail he first became a convert to Gandhi's doctrines and sice has been inseparable from him—despite divergent opinions.

Nehru is a patriot and a brilliant intellectual. In his autobiography, compiled in prison, he described himself as "a queer mixture of east and west, out of place everywhere, at home nowhere."

With Gandhi and his personal attendants, Nehru was interned in 1942 for his advocacy of civil disobedience. He was released in 1945 and several months ago, at the age of 56, resumed his former post of president of the All-India National Congress.

London Transport Crisis Looming

By Basil Dean

LONDON. — The prospect of widespread labor troubles in the immense London passenger transport board was raised Tuesday as the board served notice on it's employes they must join the Transport and General Workers union or be fired.

The board's statement was aimed at some hundreds of men and women who are members of National Passenger Workers union, formed after the bus strike in 1937 by workers who disapproved of the way the strike was run. The leader of that strike was the present Foreign Secretary Bevin, who at the time was general secretary of the Transport Workers union — one of the largest and most powerful in Britain.

The transport board, a semi-public corporation, has decided to agree to a closed shop with the transport workers union as the sole bargaining agent. The immediate reason for the decision was the refusal of employes at one of the boards car barns to continue to work alongside 12 tram drivers who were members of the breakaway union. For months, pending final decision as to which union would be recognized, these 12 have been reporting for duty and drawing pay but doing no work.

Antagonism to the breakaway union among members of transport and general workers has been growing rapidly, and board officials fear a general stoppage which would snarl the whole of London transportation system unless the matter is settled quickly.

The National Passenger Workers union claims to have 4,000 members among the boards employes, and the organizer, F. F. Snelling, declares his union will finish the decision all down the line. "If the board insists on the decision it will have to fire 4,000 employes" he said.

If members of the breakaway union stick together, it will piece the transport board squarely on a spot, since in these days of scarce labor it can hardly afford to dispense with 4,000 employes in one sweep.

No deadline has been fixed for the employes to join the Transport Workers union. But London's commuters, 10,000,000 of whom are carried on the London transport underground, bus, tram and trolley-bus services every day, Tuesday began to wonder whether the vast inconveniences of a transport tie-up are going to be thrust on them again.

Cool Weather Aids Coast Firefighters

VANCOUVER, (CP)—Forest service officials reported Monday that cooler weather had assisted fire fighters in putting control of the latest fires in the Vancouver forest district, except south and east of Chilliwack.

The blaze on the Silver-Skagit Logging Company limit has been brought under control by 300 fire fighters and was whipped up again by a heavy wind that struck the area. An electrical storm accompanied the wind. Forest rangers reported the big fire that roared over 800 acres near Campbell River on Vancouver Island is burning itself out.

Smith Attacks Howe's Power In Disposing of War Supplies

By H. R. Hardy

OTTAWA. — Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of reconstruction and supply, has far too much power as a minister with the final word when it comes to deciding which bidder should have a surplus plant, A. L. Smith, (Prog. Cons., Calgary West), told the commons Monday.

"If the minister saw fit he could sell a property even though the bidder's price was $100,000 less than that of one of his competitors," Mr. Smith declared in touching off a sharp verbal battle between himself, Mr. Howe, Gordon Graydon, (Prog. Cons., Peel), and Thomas Reid, (Lib., New Westminster).

"It seems to me that it is completely wrong," declared Mr. Smith, "that one man may be able to say . . . that one man's bid should be accepted rather than another man's. The minister can make any decision he likes with regard to the sale of any war asset and have it carried out."

Mr. Howe replied he knew of no case where property had been sold when war assets had a better offer. This, he added, had applied "since the beginning."

Gordon Isnor, (Lib., Halifax) rose to defend the report of the special committee on war expenditures. He immediately tangled with Mr. Graydon.

Mr. Graydon said "whitewash" was as good a term as any to apply to the committee's treatment of charges of waste and destruction of surplus supplies. He thought the committee had left the charges "up in the air."

"I nailed one of them (the charges) as a lie," interjected Mr. Reid. "Keep the record right."

Mr. Howe said many of the recommendations in the report had been acted on before the committee concluded its sitting. Others were being implemented. Among these, he said, were efforts to select shortsupply civilian items for immediate sale and the placing of building materials at the disposal of builders as quickly as possible.

War assets, he added, had sold up for the end of July, $236,523,150 worth of material, was disposing of more than $20,000,000 worth a month.

The pilot said he had orders to fly to Udine and back. It was reported here that a Flying Fortress would henceforth make the run daily.

Glen Will Inspect Yellowknife, West

By H. R. Hardy

OTTAWA—Although the end of the session is fast approaching, prorogation will not mean an immediate holiday for cabinet ministers and their parliamentary assistants.

Hon. Louis St. Laurent, minister of justice, and acting prime minister, informed the Commons Monday night he hoped parliament would deal with the remaining estimates as expeditiously as possible as a number of ministers wished to get away immediately on tours of inspection.

Specifically he mentioned Mines and Resources Minister Glen, who is to make an inspection tour of the Yellowknife area, and may visit other western points, and Fisheries Minister Bridges who is to visit B.C.

MOSCOW, (Reuters)—Tass, the Soviet news agency, in a report from Beirut, the Lebanon, Sunday quoted "local circles" as saying Britain had "set up a military supply base in the Dardanelles" and that the command of a Turkish airdrome near Istanbul "has been subordinated to the British."

Soviet Mining Men Get Pay Increase

MOSCOW, (AP)—The Soviet government announced Monday it has ordered a 20-percent pay increase for 834,000 engineers, technicians and other workers employed in oil, mining and similar enterprises in the Urals, Siberia and the Soviet Far East. The government also announced a housing fund to finance workers seeking to construct their own homes. Loans will be at an interest rate of one per cent.

Floating mines are still being captured off the Eire coast.

Flood of Livestock Hits U. S. Market

CHICAGO, (AP)— "Eat it while you can" was the advice of the meat industry Tuesday as packers worked at turning the largest cattle run in the United States since 1934 into butchers' cuts.

Packers predicted freely that by Thursday, when new O.P.A. price ceilings on livestock become effective, the currently jam-packed American livestock markets would be empty.

"Cattle are coming to market which should never be slaughtered," Norman Draper of the American Meat Institute said. He added that this winter there would be "a real famine."

Rushing to get in under O.P.A ceiling deadlines, producers are marketing lightweight hogs and cattle which normally would remain on farms for months. Twenty of the largest stockyards handled a total of 183,000 cattle Monday, including 40,000 at Chicago, the largest run for any one day here since Sept. 24, 1923, and the largest one-day total on record for August.

Prices dropped sharply under pressure of bulging receipts. Most steers slumped $1 to $3 under last week's close, and the bulk sold within a range of $18.50 to $25. Hog prices slumped to the lowest levels since July 13. The average was $17.30 against $19.75 last Saturday.

There was no way of estimating the amount of potential meat which the country was losing, but traders said it unquestionably was large. A spokesman for one of the largest packers said it was obvious producers did not realize ceilings might very well go off meat and livestock Sunday.

He said the Emergency Price Control Act provided that on the first day of each month the secretary of agriculture must certify each agricultural commodity the secretary determines to be in short supply. If the secretary doesn't certify livestock and meat are in short supply this Sunday, then ceilings automatically are.

Awaiting Trial; On Risky Mission

REGINA, (CP)— Flt. Lt. Paul Bissky, of Saskatoon, R.C.A.F. officer awaiting trail on a civil charge of manslaughter arising from a traffic accident in Winnipeg last month, flew through driving rain storms Saturday night to complete a flight bringing a patient with a broken neck from Melfort, Sask., to Regina.

Bisky, stationed at Winnipeg, volunteered for the flight when an ex-R.C.A.F. officer in Melfort telephoned requesting air transport for Fat Zaporozan, Zaporozan's wife was broken when he was trampled by cattle being loaded on a railway car.

The twin-engined aircraft piloted by Bissky landed on a small grass airdrome at Melfort where rain cut visibility down considerably. Regina hospital authorities report the condition of the injured man as satisfactory.

Martell Low With 77 For Initial 18 Holes

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 27 (AP) — Henry Martell, Canadian amateur golf champion, Monday shot a 77 for the first 18 holes of his 36-hole qualification test for the United States amateur golf tournament.

The Edmonton cop went over the first nine holes of the Minikahda Club course in 39, and came back in 38.

PAR FOR THE COURSE, which was windswept Monday, is 73 and Martell was lowest of 12 eligible. Next best score posted was 78, followed by an 80 and an 82. The second 18 holes will be played today. Two will go from here to the U.S. Amateur at Springfield, N.J.

NINE HUNDRED ENTERED IN QUALIFYING TESTS

NEW YORK, Aug. 27—(AP)—Post-war normality returns to the amateur golf scene today when some 900 play-for-fun niblic swingers tee off at 29 different sites throughout the United States to determine the field which will play at Baltusrol Country Club, Springfield, N. J., Sept. 9-14.

One test, that at Honolulu, already has been held with James Ukauka the winner. He is in the United States, hopeful that he will be the one to dethrone Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane, Wash., who has held the title since winning it at Omaha in 1941.

TWO ROUNDS of 18 holes each will be played at all the sites today except at Minneapolis where the first half of the test was played Monday. The final 18 holes at the Minikahda club are booked for today.

At least three Canadian golfers are entered. Jack Nash and Colin Brown of London, Ont., will play at the Orchard Lake course, Detroit, and Henry Martell of; Edmonton, Canadian champion, is competing at Minneapolis.

Calgary Stampeders Prep for Grid Opener

CALGARY, Aug. 27 (CP) — A new Calgary Stampeder club is being groomed for a national crown.

Last spring it was Stampeders of the ice lanes that swept aside all opposition to bring the Allan cup and the Canadian senior amateur hockey title to the foothills city. Now a gridiron club with the same famous Stampeder name is getting ready to hit the trail for the Grey Cup, Canada's foremost rugby-football prize.

AND THIS year Calgary football supporters are hoping to see the successful culmination of a grid experiment which began in the early 1930's when Carl Cronin, former Notre Dame stylist, arrived in the city to manage the colorful Calgary entry.

Under Cronin's direction a number of imports from the American gridiron began instructing high school teams. As home-grown talent was developed they joined the senior squad—and the collegiate coaching staffs.

Since that time these players have labored to instil their football skill and knowledge into Calgary youngsters and today the Calgary youngsters trot out a right fancy brand of football in their junior and high school leagues. The fans feel that this may be the year when the experiment will really pay off.

HEAD COACH is big Dean Griffing, one of the most colorful players ever to step on a Canadian gridiron. He came to Canada from the United States and was one of the main-springs in the Regina Roughrider attack for several years.

Other Americans are Hal Harrison and Jerry Searight. Both have played a number of seasons with former Calgary entries and Searight also spent a year or two at Montreal. Harrison, long rated one of the better ends in Western Canada, is coaching aspirants for that position, while Searight plays centre.

Paul Rowe, former Victoria athlete, is another with U.S. football experience. He played with Oregon and his full-back play has been a mainstay in the Calgary attack for a number of years.

LINE COACH is a Calgary product, Jack Lawrence, an all-star fullback while attending high school, while another home-grown product, Pat Cassidy, has already won the vital quarterback spot with stampeders.

Bulk of the speedy backfield is being built around a group of other ex-juniors. Wes Alexander has shown up well in practice as a kicker and a youngster named Harry Hobbs is expected to give opposing coaches trouble when he gets underway with the ball.

To steady the young backfield Maestro Griffin has Rowe and another Calgary veteran, Bill Wusyk.

THREE FORMER members of the famed Winnipeg Blue Bombers, perennial western champions, are trying to win places with Stampeders. They are Bert Border, Rube Ludgwin, tackles and Dave Barry, an end.

Line coach Lawrence has Norm Sanderson and Jerry Searight for centre, a host of candidates for tackle and Steaky Adams, Jerry Woodlock, Bill Klym and Jerry Miller to play guard.

It is still too early to accurately judge Stampeders chances in the western football league this year. But sideline quarterbacks will be full of confidence when they get their first glimpse of their gridiron team under fire when Stamps face Saskatchewan Roughriders Aug. 31.

Lefty Belter Pitches 3 - 2 Win for Eskimos

With Eddie (Lefty) Belter pitching steady ball and receiving good defensive support, Eskimos knocked over Army and Navy Cardinals 3-2 at Renfrew Park Monday night and went one game up in the city senior playoff.

Belter was not so spectacular as George Kemp who had 12 strikeouts, but the six hits he allowed were distributed throughout four innings.

ESKIMOS COLLECTED only four safeties off Kemp, but all came in the second frame, after which the Card right-hander didn't show any inclination to be co-operative.

Just 23 Eskimos went to the plate in the last six innings and of these nine were strikeout victims. Four did reach first on passes, but none got beyond second base.

Both clubs secured one unearned run. Bert Culver negotiated the circuit on four Cardinal errors in the opening stanza, while a bad toss to second by Belter to catch Galvin off the bag, permitted the Card manager to reach third, from where he later scored on Jack McGill's infield out. Galvin had singled and he advanced on Ernie Marlow's walk.

ESKIMOS WON the game in the second inning when they bunched their four hits, three of them landing in the hole between pitcher and third. Two were meant for sacrifices.

Roy Dean beat out a slow roller and Price reached first on an attempted sacrifice. Doug Stevenson then followed with another of the same vintage to fill the bases with nobody out.

Kemp then struck out Belter and Art Flores filed out to second, but Bert Culver dropped the ball into right field sending in both Dean and Price. Tedeschi forced Culver for the third out.

A walk to Marlow, Doug Lane's single to centre, a fielders' choice and a hit to centre by Ken Samis gave Cards their final run.

A PROTEST GREW out of the play which followed. With McGill on second and Samis on first, Kemp hit to short. Flores fumbled but recovered and threw to Dean at third to catch McGill who had rounded the bag.

McGill tried to get back to the sack and was called out by plate umpire Fred Lupul. The protest by manager Johnny Galvin alleges that under the circumstances the plate umpire had no authority to make the cal. Herb Coxford was handling the bases Monday night.

Cards Likely Set Attendance Mark

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 27 -(AP)—The pennant-seeking St. Louis Cardinals are headed for a new club attendance record.

Their doubleheader Sunday opening the important four-game National League series with Brooklyn Dodgers attracted 33,634 paid fans and brought the club's attendance for the year to 721,449—less than 60,000 shy of the record figure.

The Redbird attendance record of 778,147 was established in 1928 when they won the pennant and lost to New York Yankees in the world series.

Senior Baseball Playoff Tonight

Second of the best of seven series between Cardinals and Eskimos for the Edmonton senior baseball title will be played at Renfrew Park tonight commencing at 8 o'clock.

Bill Whyte (2-3) is expected to be the pitching choice for the Eskimos, with either Leo Douziech (6-3), or Marvin Miller (4-3) on the mound for Cardinals.

Playoff games will continue each night this week, or until one club has won four.

South Side Girls Beat Rovers 9-5

South Side girls picked up a 7-1 lead in the first four innings and then went on to defeat Rovers 9-5 Monday night in the opening game of the Kingsway intermediate girls' fastball series. Second game of the best of five playoff is billed for Wednesday evening at 6:15 o'clock.

Nellie Smith was on the mound for the South Side girls and pitched rousing ball in limiting the Rovers to three base knocks. She also struck out six, but was a little wild at times and over the nine innings she walked seven.

Eileen Brown hurled the full game for the Rovers, but didn't get worthy support from her teammates who kicked in with eight errors.

South Side rallied for a quartet of runs in the first inning on two hits and four Rover miscues and then had little trouble in holding their lead. Rovers got their first in the 3rd on Dot Fediuk's solo home run, but South Side bounced back with three in the fourth and two more in the fifth.

Score by innings:

Greco Favorite

MONTREAL, Aug. 27—(CP)—Johnny Greco, challenger, and Dave Castilloux, Canadian lightweight and welterweight champion, Monday were passed as physically fit by Dr. George Gallaty and Dr. Emile Thomas of the Montreal athletic commission.

Current betting has placed Greco as a 11-5 favorite while a few bets were placed at 2-2 that Greco would ko the champion.

Swim Records

AMSTERDAM, Aug 27 -(AP)—Nel Van Vliet, Dutch mermaid, bettered a pair of world swimming records during the week-end.

She was clocked in 1:11.1 in the 100-yard breast stroke to shade the mark of 1:13.2 set by Ale Stijl, also of Holland, on Jan. 12, 1940 and then was timed at 2:35.6 for the 200-yard breast stroke. The standard in the latter event is credited to Jopie Wallberg, another Dutch swimmer, who did 2:40.3 on July 11, 1939.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP) — St. Louis Cardinals climaxed their three-month long National League climb last night with a 2-1 victory over Brooklyn Dodgers and today the Cards rest in first place — undisputed.

Behind the seven hit hurling of Murry Dickson, the Red Birds treated 33,991 fans to a thrilling duel which saw Enos Slaughter's first inning double drive home both Card runs.

The Redbirds touched three Brooklyn pitchers for only six hits but two of them produced the two first inning runs and the Dodgers did not score until the sixth.

THUS ST. LOUIS gained a 2-1 advantage in this last Brooklyn series of the season here. The Dogers will have a chance to even it up in the final game this afternoon.

Brooklyn manager Leo Durocher, who played in his dugout throughout Sunday's doubleheader, came out of cover and did a loud job of coaching at first base but Dickson was entirely the master of the situation.

Greenberg May Quit as Player

DETROIT, Aug. 27-(AP)-The Detroit news in a dispatch from its sports editor, H. G. Salsinger, with the Detroit American league baseball club in New York, said that Hank Greenberg has decided that this is his last season as an active player.

Salsinger writes that Greenberg, now 35, finds it impossible to regain much of his pre-war form after four years in the army. He adds that while the current schedule will mark the end of Hank's career as a player it does not mean that he will be through with baseball.

Greenberg, the dispatch says, is bidding for a minor league franchise on the Pacific coast. The club involved is not named.

Haywards Square Fastball Playoff

Haywards came back to deadlock the best of three Intermediate men's semi-final fastball series at one game each Monday night when they defeated Taylor and Pearson 5-4 at Kingsway Park (west diamond).

A run in the last half of the fourth, after Taylor and Pearson had rallied for three runs in the top half, broke a 4-4 tie and gave Haywards the win.

IN AN "A" DIVISION semi-final, Fire Department and Canada Packers will meet tonight at 6:15 in the second game of their series. The firemen lead by one game.

On Wednesday night another "B" division semi-final, between Union Tractors and Alberta Poultry Producers will be played. Winner of this series will meet the Haywards-Taylor and Pearson playoff.

World Series To Start on Oct. 2

CHICAGO, Aug. 27—(AP)—The 1946 world series, whether Brooklyn or St. Louis wins the National League championship, will start with a two-game set in the National League city Oct. 2 and 3.

This is a departure from the wartime travel-conserving practice of holding three games in the opening city and the remaining four, if necessary, in the other city.

Plans for the series were arranged yesterday by commissioner A. B. Chandler and representatives of the clubs still in the pennant running.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 27—(AP)—Featherweight champion Willie Pep, of Hartford, Conn., knocked out Doll Rafferty, Milwaukee, in 1:10 of the sixth round of their scheduled 10-round non-title fight at the auditorium here last night.

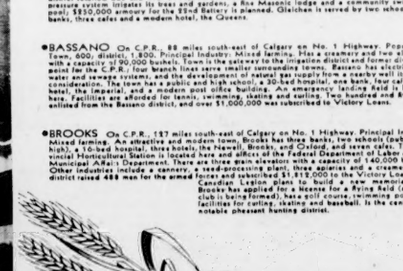

KNOW YOUR ALBERTA

The Garden of Alberta

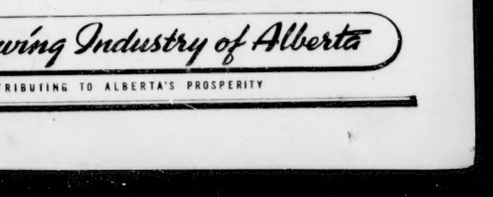

There are a number of spots in Alberta—and the number is increasing—where irrigation has added an abundant water supply to the natural fertility of the soil, to produce bigger and better crops. One of the oldest and largest of these is the district south-east of Calgary that includes the towns of Strathmore, Gleichen, Bassano, and Brooks. This favored district, besides growing excellent grain crops, produces large crops of peas, corn, and other vegetables which maintain prosperous canning and seed processing industries, while its lush meadows support a thriving dairy industry. Some of the color of the Old West is retained by the proximity of the Blackfoot Indian Reservation which borders the towns of Gleichen and Bassano. Gleichen features an annual Indian Stampede. This is a favorite hunting country and is particularly noted for its large population of pheasants, which have increased enormously on these breeding grounds since their first introduction in 1925.

This district is a prosperous example of the value of irrigation.

The district contributed $60 men to the armed forces and subscribed $1,112,000 to the Victory Loans. Town is formulating plans for a community war memorial. Strathmore boasts an excellent golf course and a fine swimming pool, and has a convenient site for an airfield which it hopes to develop.

Town features: Water pressure system irrigates its lawns and gardens; a Red Mountain spring supplies drinking water. Has a population of 18,500,000 for Victory Loans, and is formulating plans for a community war memorial. CONTRIBUTING TO ALBERTA'S PROSPERITY

Bracken Attacks Taxes on Co-ops

WINNIPEG, (CP)—John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, Monday night charged the government with "indecision and bungling" in its policy of taxation of co-operatives and said the four-year wheat agreement with Britain would have to be revised within two years.

In a recorded broadcast, Mr. Bracken said the government was "still floundering" in its housing plans and its program in the production and labor fields had broken down completely.

He declared the government's move to tax co-operatives was "almost valueless" as a taxation measure, "as a measure of justice to competing companies, it is deceptive; and as for its being fair legislation, it is nothing but a sham."

The law respecting taxation of co-operatives had been amended in 1930, when the government announced co-operatives were not to be subject to the tax. Then, in 1942, the "government tried to make out the pool co-operatives were taxable under this same law."

"But it neither enforced its views, nor did it change the law," he said. "The government proceeded on its vacillating and uncertain course. It required the western pools to keep back a very considerable amount of money belonging to their members, which they would have paid out in patronage dividends had the government allowed them to do so."

"The taxation bill which had just passed the commons would make the pools pay the wartime tax rates for the last two years, 1944 and 1945. The government's policy was to 'make the pools pay five to 10 times as much in taxes for each of those two years as it was going to make them pay from now on.'"

Mr. Bracken said this discrimination could not be justified and the money the government proposed to collect for 1944 and 1945 was patronage dividends belonging to the farmers and consequently not taxable.

Three Forces Plan Recruiting Campaign

OTTAWA, (CP) — The three branches of the armed forces soon will undertake a joint recruiting campaign during which the particulars of the permanent navy, army and air force will be outlined, Air Minister Gibson said Monday night in the commons.

Col. Gibson said 9,122 all ranks have so far been accepted into the permanent air force, which was to have a personnel of 16,000.

Total strength of the force now was about 15,373. Some 500 were still overseas.

Calgary Children Appear in Films

CALGARY, (CP)— Two Calgary children, 11-year-old Patsy Law, and 12-year-old Kenner Malkinson, have the distinction of being the first known Canadian children to appear in British films, and at the same time are starting on what may be a promising screen future.

They have just finished playing the leading roles in a short educational movie filmed in Banff national park by Cecil Malden, writer-director of the J. Arthur Rank Film Company of England, and next month, they will make another movie to be filmed in the ranching country around High River.

Hint at Reprisals By Congress Party

NEW DELHI, (CP)—The Hindustan Times, edited by Devadas Gandhi, hinted at possible Congress (Hindu) party reprisals against the Moslem league which it blamed for political violence.

Commenting on the stabbing of Sir Shafa'at Ahmad Khan, a non-league Moslem appointed to the congress-formed interim government for India, the Times said "violence is a game at which two can play."

Sir Shafa'at was reported recovering from seven stab wounds by two unknown assailants.

R.C.M.P. Sleuth Still on Trail Of Communist Moves in Canada

OTTAWA, (CP)—An almost legendary name in the annals of undercover police work in Canada—John Leopold—is back in the news again.

It popped up in the commons Monday when the government tabled a reply to questions asked by T. J. Bentley (C.C.F., Swift Current), indicating that Leopold, an R.C.M.P. inspector now, still is working unobtrusively at the task of which he has made a 28-year-long career—ferreting out information about the Communist movement in Canada.

The government statement said no R.C.M.P. were engaged in investigation of trade unions and then answered questions concerning Leopold, whose name became a household word 15 wears ago.

In saying that Leopold joined the force in September, 1918 and later adopted the name of Jack Esselwein to join the Communist party and subsidiary organizations while on the R.C.M.P. payroll, the reply added nothing to the scanty public knowledge of the man who was in the thick of the winter's probe into Russian espionage activity.

The single word "Yes" was the answer to Mr. Bentley's query whether his present duties "include any portion of those assigned him during the period he was a member of the Communist party of Canada."

After the fashion of the R.C.M.P. anti-subversive section, Leopold works in almost complete obscurity and only from necessity does he ever appear in the spotlight.

Born in Bohemia 55 years ago, he had a homestead in the Peace River country when he joined the R.C.M.P. in the hope of going overseas in the First Great War. However, his knowledge of the Bohemian, German, Polish and English languages kept him in Canada and launched what has become a fabulous career of undercover sleuthing.

In 1918, when authorities were anxious to check on the spread in Canada of influences stemming from the Bolshevik revolution in Russia, Sergeant Leopold became J. W. Esselwein.

In 1931 he revealed his identity to become chief crown witness in the sensational trial of nine men charged with belonging to an unlawful organization and being parties to seditious conspiracy.

Forced Breathing Helps Beat 'Polio'

MINNEAPOLIS, (AP)—University of Minnesota doctors report a notable reduction in deaths has been achieved in the Minnesota infantile paralysis epidemic through use of new techniques in treating bulbar, the so-called killer type, poliomyelitis.

Rather than lay claim to any sensational discoveries, the doctors point instead to their application of known scientific facts and their adaptation of certain mechanical equipment, much of which was developed by the Army Air Forces for wartime use.

Dr. Maurice B. Visscher, professor of physiology, said:

"We have found if we can keep bulbar patients breathing five to seven days they have a good chance of surviving."

Of the 1,654 Minnesotans stricken thus far in the epidemic, 12 to 15 percent were afflicted by bulbar polio.

Although Dr. Visscher declined to give specific figures on mortality reduction, explaining he wished to observe more cases, his colleagues said the success has been "highly gratifying."

Bulbar polio attacks brain cells controlling the respiratory system. Having determined in most cases not all the cells are destroyed and that they have recuperative powers, the doctors sought means of keeping the patients breathing.

The iron lung took care of those whose chest muscles were paralyzed. But where the larynx was closed, the doctors resorted to pressure breathing equipment developed by the Army Air Forces.

War Assets Speeds Disposal of Supplies

OTTAWA, (CP)—War Assets Corporation Monday night announced a revision of its system of handling priority claims "designed to speed the disposal of surplus materials."

The new system reduces from 30 to 10 days the time limit for acceptance of materials offered to priority claimers and places priority holders in the same category as other bidders on all surplus materials already offered for sale to the public.

Priority requests from federal government departments or agencies will be made first to the crown assets allocation committee in Ottawa, while requests from provincial governments, municipalities and public bodies, including educational institutions, will be made through regional sales managers at Halifax, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg.

Suggestions Offered To Improve Roads

JACK REILLY

Two suggestions for improvements to Edmonton's gravelled roads, were forwarded recently through the Chamber of Commerce Civic Betterment Committee to Mayor Harry Ainlay.

ONE IS FROM J.B. Starky, who stated that the main reason for the pot holes occurring in gravelled streets is due to the clay content in the material from the present city gravel pit. Mr. Starky points out that the clay washes out and results in the rough, hard surface which appears on these roads.

As a corrective measure he suggests the use of a thin surface of washed pea gravel, which is available in large quantities at a minimum expense, at a washing plant near Horse Hills. This, he suggests, should be applied after the present gravelled surface has been graded

THE SECOND LETTER, from V.A. Porter, echoes Mr. Starky's suggestions that the city has been using the wrong type of travel and suggests the use of finely crushed stone. He points out that this method is being widely used throughout the United States in public works programs.

Mr. Porter further suggested that more use be made of city scarifiers, graders and maintainers. He states that to his knowledge the city owns two or more of these machines, and it would seem reasonable that if they are kept busy at all times, and particularly following rains, when there is the necessary moisture in the ground, streets would be in much better shape.

Flowers Thrive In Far North

Points in far Northern Alberta may be cold places to live according to the geography books, but according to evidence submitted here this week, they do have a better-than-average growing season for flowers and vegetables.

ON DISPLAY at the Edmonton offices of Canadian Pacific Air Lines Monday was a vase filled with giant gladiolus of a variety that would look well beside any of the entries at last week's city flower show.

The flowers, together with a selection of vegetables also shown here, were sent by H. A. Hamman of Fort Vermilion, together with a letter in which he expressed the hope his "present" would at least tell people of Fort Vermilion's existence. Mr. Hamman's wife resides at 11842 91 street.

Start Air Search For Missing Plane

RCAF and USSAF search planes are searching the area between George and Grande Prairie for an American Luscombe light plane missing since Saturday morning, North West Air Command announced today.

THE MISSING aircraft, described as a silver high wing monoplane with red trimmings, was being flown by J. J. Hawkins, an American civilian pilot. He left Prince George early Saturday morning to fly to Grande Prairie, but did not reach his destination.

FIELD MARSHAL HONORS DEAD AND DECORATES A HERO: It was a busy day for Canada's new governor general, His Excellency Rt. Hon. Viscount Alexander of Tunis on the occasiion of his first official visit to Edmonton Monday. At the left the great British war leader is shown placing a wreath at the Cenotaph, following his rededication of the war memorial. At the right, he is shown pinning the decoration of the Distinguished Service Order on the breast of Lt.-Col. Robert A. Keane, assistant adjutant and quartermaster general on the staff of Western Army Command here. Lt. Col. Keane was given the award for gallantry in leading the Lake Superior Regiment in the battle for the Wesel pocket in March of 1945. The investiture took place at the CNR station platform just before Lt. Col. Keane left for Exercise North along the Alaska Highway.

"Swell Time In Edmonton," Says Governor

Edmonton's hospitality has scored again. Canada's new soldier governor-general, His Excellency Field Marshal Rt. Hon. Viscount Alexander of Tunis, GCB, GCMG, CSI, DSO, MC, LLD, ADC, placed his seal of approval on this city's warmth of welcome at a provincial-city banquet in his honor in the Macdonald hotel Monday night in the following words:

"I AND MY WIFE have had a swell time in Edmonton. We are sorry our stay was so short. We are sorry the children are not here with us. But it won't be very long until we come back again as a complete family."

Field Marshal Alexander was replying to addresses of welcome made previously by Premier Manning and Mayor Harry Ainlay.

Viscount Alexander was warmly applauded by more than 500 guests attending.

HE EXPLAINED that although he was in Canada for the first time the men and women of the Dominion are no strangers to him.

Said the governor-general:

"I was privileged to have many Canadians under my command in the Mediterranean and none gave a finer account of themselves than the men from this province.

"I should like to mention The Loyal Edmontons, 2nd Canadian Field Regiment RCA, Calgary Rgt. (Tanks), 1st. Canadian Armored Brigade, RCASC, and the 4th Casualty Clearing Station, RCAMC. You have every reason to be proud of their achievements in battle.

"I know you will be equally proud of their achievements in peace."

EVERYWHERE HE had gone in the Dominion he had found ex-servicemen carrying on to improve and enrich the country for which they were ready and willing to sacrifice so much, the governor-general said.

He is already convinced that Alberta has a great future.

Alberta with her vast agricultural production contributed in no small measure to the winning of the war and by sending produce to alleviate a world-wide shortage of food the province is making another great contribution toward the peaceful solution of many great problems.

"AS LONG AS starvation stalks abroad, hope of a stable and ordered world is jeopardized. Every bushel of grain and every pound of meat which you produce is an added safeguard against another frightful upheaval," he said.

The distinguished soldier closed with the assurance, "I shall return here many times to share with you and refresh myself in the glories of Alberta."

The governor-general was introduced by Hon. J. C. Bowen, lieutenant-governor of Alberta, making his first public appearance during the day since his serious injury suffered during the spring.

Premier Manning said he not only welcomed Viscount Alexander as a victorious commander and representative of His Majesty The King, but also as a gentleman and a citizen.

"THOSE WHO HAVE returned from the conflict have spoken so highly of your humanitarianism, your great concern for the welfare of your men and your thorough appreciation of their outstanding valor," said Premier Manning.

He hoped Viscount Alexander would honor Alberta with frequent visits in order that "you may become well acquainted with more of our people, our problems, our aspirations and hopes for the future."

Lady Alexander was also welcomed with equal sincerety and pleasure, the premier said. It was realized that her contribution during the dark years of the war had been an unfailing inspiration to her husband.

The premier presented a scroll, bearing the address of welcome to Field Marshal Alexander.

MAYOR AINLAY added the expression of the pleasure of all citizens on the occasion of the first visit of the vice-regal pair to Edmonton. He too, recalled the pride felt by Edmontonians in their sons who had fought so brilliantly under the great leadership of the field marshal.

He urged the governor-general to return often to Edmonton.

In addition to Viscountess Alexander, His Honor Lieut-Governor Bowen, Premier Manning and Mayor Ainlay, there were seated at the head table: Mrs. Bowen, Mrs. Manning, Mrs. Ainlay, Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington, CB, MC, MM, ED, and Mrs. Worthington; Air Vice-Marshal T. A. Lawrence, CB, and Mrs. Lawrence; Miss Bridgett Vesey, lady-in-waiting to Viscountess Alexander; Lt.-Cmdr. Rodney Pike and Mrs. Pike; Maj.-Gen. H. F. C. Letson; Col. T. E. Snow; the Rt. Rev. W. F. Barfoot, bishop of Edmonton and Mrs. Barfoot; Archbishop John Hugh Macdonald, Roman Catholic archbishop of Edmonton; Dr. Robert Newton and Mrs. Newton; Paul C. Seddicum and Mrs. Seddicum. Chief Justice Horace Harvey; Dr. Charles Camsell and Mrs. Camsell.

The governor-general and Lady Alexander left for Saskatoon soon after the dinner ended.

Viscount, U.S. Officer Talk of "Old Times"

It was a case of "talking old times" for His Excellency Field Marshal Rt. Hon. Viscount Alexander of Tunis Monday when he met Col. Joseph W. Stilwell, Jr., U.S. Army liaison officer at Western Command of the Canadian Army.

COL. STILWELL WAS ONE of the officers waiting to entrain for Exercise North at the CNR station as Field Marshal Alexander conducted an investiture of the Distinguished Service Order for LT.-Col. Robert Keane, of Western Army headquarters staff.

The officers were presented to His Excellency,

"MY NAME IS STILWELL," the U.S. officer told the governor-general.

"To be sure," replied the field marshal, "I know your father quite well. We were together much in Burma. How is he and what is he doing now?"

General Alexander was referring to Maj.-General Joseph W. Stilwell (Vinegar Joe), who was in command of a Chinese-American force in Burma and the father of Col. Stilwell, JR.

THE YOUNGER STILWELL, who had also served in the Chinese-Burma theatre for more than two years replied that his father was now in command of U.S army groups along the Pacific coast with headquarters in San Francisco.

The two then discussed the Burma campaign at considerable length.

City Youth Gets Autograph

Fourteen-year-old Laurie Hodgson, 8002 100 street, is one of the happiest youngsters in Edmonton today, and the envy of all his playmates. Not only did he get a front row view of Canada's new governor general during his Edmonton visit Monday, but he is also the proud possessor of the great man's autograph.

LAURIE SPOTTED the vice-regal party as it was leaving the Macdonald hotel Monday noon, following the joint Kiwanis-Canadian club luncheon. Tossing timidity to the winds, he stepped up to the governor-general and asked him to sign his autograph album. The Field Marshall graciously consented and signed his name, "Alexander F-M," over the entire page.

A crowd of spectators applauded the incident.

Doubts Authority To Set Rentals

Secretary-manager of Edmonton branch, Canadian Legion, BESL, W. J. Williams, MLA Tuesday expressed the view that emergency housing is outside jurisdiction of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board and that the latter body can't set or determine rentals on the Jesuit College suites.

MR. WILLIAMS was commenting on a report from Ottawa that tenants occupying these suites will have the opportunity of making representation before their rents are increased as a result of the property having been altered under the home conversion plan.

The Legion officials stated that all tenants had already registered protests about the rent increases with the local rental administrator, Neil Primrose, KC.

ACCORDING to the Ottawa report, the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation was making appliecation to the prices board to have rentals fixed.

Community Chests Receive Donations

Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbridge community chests are to benefit by sharing $9,415.91 on a pro rata basis as donations from the War Services Fund of the Civil Service Association, it was announced Tuesday.

THE FUND, in operation since 1941, will drop its identity with war services and will be continued as a benevolent and charity fund.

One thousand dollars of the $20,415.91 balance remaining at the end of March, 1946, will be donated to the Alberta Council of the Canadian Girl Guides Association. Other purposes of the new fund will be to make contributions to peacetime charitable organizations, as well as to establish a fund for the benefit of aged CSA superannuants or employees.

CONTRIBUTIONS to the fund by CSA employees have been reduced from one half to one quarter of one per cent of each employee's gross salary.

The fund has paid out $128,605 in contributions during its six years as a war services fund.

The house entered Saturday night or early Sunday while the family was on holidays. The arrest of Farrel took place in Calgary.

IN A CHECK UP with second hand stores following the report of the break-in Detective Alex Bremner found that a man had sold a typewriter and had attempted to sell two revolvers that were reported missing from the home. Hospital Is Opened By Governor-General

Declaring that such a hospital was badly needed and could do a tremendous lot of good, Field Marshall, the Rt. Hon. Viscount Alexander, governor general of Canada, officially opened the Charles Camsell Indian hospital, on the former Jesuit College site, at a ceremony Monday morning.

ADDRESSING a gathering of honored guests, staff and hospital patients in the hospital assembly hall, the governor general expressed warmest wishes for the success of the hospital.

Dr. Charles Camsell, deputy minister of mines and resources, Ottawa, after whom the hospital has been named, replied briefly to the Governor-General's opening address outlining the growth of Indian hospital establishments throughout Canada, and expressing appreciation that the Edmonton hospital should bear his name.

Previous to the opening ceremony, the vice-regal party was met at the hospital by Dr. Camsell, Dr. E. L. Stone, regional superintendent of Indian health services: Dr. H. Meltzer, medical director of the hospital: Matron L. A. Kautz, Dr. D. R. Easton, DVA. and J. Proctor, DVA.

LADY ALEXANDER took a keen interest in the ward of tubercular Indian babies, and while her husband and the rest of the party remained outside, she, accompanied by Matron Kautz paid a special visit to the infants.

Excitement ran high in the wards as Their Excellancies passed through, pausing to chat with the more lively patients.

In the women's wards, patients had "prettied up" for the vice-regal visitors, and many dark heads boasted nosegays of flowers and colorful bits of ribbon.

IN THE CHILDREN'S ward, Lady Alexander was presented with a bouquet of red roses from one of the young patients, eight-year-old Doreen Callihoo of Villeneuve.

On leaving the hospital, an enthusiastic crowd of staff and inpatients gathered around their Excellancies car, to give them a rousing cheer.

Bread Shortage Is Not Expected

No shortage of bread is anticipated in the Northern Alberta area, according to Ralph E. Simmonds, secretary of the Northern Alberta Master Bakers' Association.

MR. SIMMONDS was commenting on a statement made by officials of the Master Bakers' Association in Calgary Monday, to the effect that Calgary and district and possibly many areas in Canada would will experience a bread shortage in September unless a greater supply of flour is forthcoming.

Mr. Simmonds was unable to explain that although bread consumption has increased in the Northern Alberta area, bakers were still receiving 90 per cent of their 1945 supply of flour and were faced with no serious shortage.

$10,599 Damages Asked for Injuries

Damages totalling $10,599 are claimed in a supreme court action filed Tuesday by the law firm of Smith, Clement, Parlee and Whittaker on behalf of Mrs. Riva King, Edmonton, for injuries received in a collison between a street car and a taxi at the intersection of Jasper avenue and 100A street on March 10 last.

Fall Shoes To Have Closed Toes Now War Is Over

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK, Aug. 27—(AP)—Women this winter won't need to wade through the snowdrifts in airy, open-toed shoes. This winter their stiff, blue toes won't gather icicles. The war is over and closed-toe shoes are back.

Shoe designers have gone to town this season with new and elegant shoe styles which not only look pretty but also protect the feet, a footwear function practically forgotten for the last five years.

Back on the shoe scene are the flattering and ever-popular opera pump, the smart calf walking shoe, the suit pump in butter-smooth calf, the suede D'Orsay and the closed-toe-and-heel platform pump.

Designs are simple. There are few flashy ornaments, fewer beads and sequins. But there's a new dressmaker touch to the fine shoes—draped or tucked vamps, stitching, piping, quilting and scallops, discreet bows and tailored ornaments with a new look.

For those who prefer them, there are still open-toed, open heeled models, suggested for dressy wear.

Platforms are important also, say officials of the Guild of Better Shoe Manufacturers, and to last year's amazing double decker has been added a triple decker.

IN MEMORIAM

IN fond and loving memory of George Albert Lowe, who passed away August 27, 1927, and Annie Lowe, who died August 31, 1941 at Luscar.

The precious memories, we share,
Shall always live [illegible]
Our path through any kind of storm
Upon the Darkest Night
—The Family

IN loving memory of our father W. H. Woods who passed away Aug. 27, 1945.

He saw the road was getting rough,
The hills were hard to climb,
So He closed your weary eyelids
And whispered peace be thine.
Ever remembered by Rene, John, Gertrude and families.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO, (CP)—The Toronto stock market volume was the heaviest of the month at close to 2,000,000 shares.

Sherritt-Gordon spurted to 3.10 and dropped the greater part of the 25-cents gain in the final period. Labrador lost 20, Pend Oreille 20 and Mining Corporation 10. In golds Chesterfield slipped back to $4 and closed around 4.25 for a net loss of 35 cents. Calgary and Edmonton and home weakened 9 to 14 cents and other western oils had minor losses.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, (AP)—Transfers were around 1,800,000 shares, among the largest of the past four months, in Tuesday's heavy decline, conspicuous on the slide, were U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Goodyear, Montgomery Ward, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, Anaconda, Du Pont, Pennsylvania and Hiram Walker. The brokers blamed the downfall on apprehension over foreign affairs, labor prospects, persistent production difficulties, and possible growing resistance of consumers to rising costs. Cotton, toward the last, was down 75 cents to $1.30 a bale.

Canadians were weak with Walker down 2¼, Distillers Seagram ¼ and Canadian Pacific ⅜.

SEE MORE FEED GRAIN

OTTAWA, (CP)—A smaller acreage and a better yield per acre combine to leave the 1946-1947 coarse grain crop prospects approximately the same as they were a year ago, the dominion bureau of statistics reported Monday in its quarterly review.

However, the report said requirements likely would be slightly less than last year and the "somewhat tight feed grain situation which has prevailed in Canada for several months is expected to ease considerably within the next few weeks."

In the prairie provinces oats and barley have been sacrificed for the sake of increased wheat acreages, with the area devoted to wheat up 12 percent over last year while oats and barley acreages are lower by 11 and nine percent, respectively, leaving the oats acreage at its lowest level since 1942 and the barley acreage lowest since 1941. Oats in the prairie provinces are about five percent below the dominion-provincial conference acreage recommendations and barley acreage nearly 17 percent short.

Regarding feed grain requirements the bureau said the decline in Canada's hog population appears to be continuing, with drastic reductions in the prairie provinces.

Minute Make-Ups

If you keep your hair beautifully clean you will be able to follow any style that you wish. In these busy days it is very important to have your hair cut perhaps a bit shorter. Shorter hair is easier to arrange and if you have a permanent it is so easy to comb your hair into any fashion that you like. Nets, in gay colors, will hold your locks in position and will look cool and gay!

Your Baby And Mine

BY MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Cereal will probably be the first solid food added to the baby's diet. Next will come vegetables. These should be served warm, delicately flavored and finely sieved. They may not be the baby's favorite food, but they'll be acceptable, if those first taste experiences are enjoyable ones.

THE MOTHER of today buys her baby's fruits, vegetables, meats and custards in cans or glass jars. She knows these are prepared of superior materials, and the convenience for the mother and the variety provided for the baby, are both influential factors.

Sometimes, it helps baby to become used to vegetable flavors if a little of his milk formula is mixed with them. This thins the vegetable and it goes down more easily. Later the vegetable can be served alone. If the formula is omitted, the vegetable should be tasted by the mother to be certain it has a pleasant taste and she may find it improved by a little salt.

GIVE ONE TEASPOON of vegetables—to begin with— along with the 2 p.m. bottle or nursing. Increase this amount gradually but do not be too much disturbed if the vegetable can be discerned in the stool. It has a slightly laxative influence, too.

There is no way of knowing how much vegetable the child will accept at any one meal. Some children take a tablespoon or so, others can consume the contents of a whole, small can. All solid foods will be taken in variable amounts by different children and on different days. In the main one should aim to balance the diet with food and milk and if there is too much milk the child will automatically cut down on his solid foods, and if too much of these, then on his milk portions. He should be able to drink all of his milk, along with the solid food he accepts without forcing.

CARROTS AND spinach used to be the two first vegetables offered. Spinach has taken a back seat these days and all mild vegetables are favored above it. Those provided in the cans will all be interesting to the baby, if he is given a little time to warm up to them. Most babies are suspicious of new flavors.

If garden vegetables are used, they should be young and fresh and after cleaning and cutting into small pieces be steamed until tender enough to sieve.

Our leaflet No. 22 "Formulas and Early Feedings," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with this request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of THE EDMONTON BULLETIN.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Why Grow Old?

Standing, as Actress SUZI CRANDALL is doing above, is good for posture but it won't reduce you. Such an idea simply is a superstition.

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

THERE ARE AS MANY superstitions about reducing as there are about change of life, walking under a ladder, or a black cat! One of the most prevalent ones is the belief that standing for 20 minutes after meals will reduce one, or at least keep one slim. There is no foundation at all for this belief.

You do use up a little more energy when sitting than you do when lying down and when standing than when sitting. However, the difference is so slight that it couldn't possibly make an iota of difference in your waistline, abdomen, legs or hips. It has been estimated that 15 minutes of standing will reduce you about one one-hundredth of an ounce of fat.

IF YOU STOOD long enough to slim down you would spend your life standing, and perhaps get fallen arches, varicose veins and a weak mind in the bargain. If you are going to include physical activity in your reducing program you had best indulge in daily exercises or sports.

Some people believe that a swig of vinegar each morning will cause a loss of weight. If this could have any effect it would be from the indigestion which it induced. Some readers think that bicycle riding push the fat from the legs to the waist, others that certain combinations of food are slimming, and so forth and so forth!

IF YOU HAVE pounds to lose it would be better to face facts rather than bemuse your mind and determination with dreams of methods which require no sacrifice or energy on your part. Some day they may find a substitute for gasoline and calorie counting but right now we must stick to the three D's: Diet, Discipline and Determination!

It really isn't bad, once you make up your mind. The amount you eat and the kind of food you eat are habits which can be broken easily and today's slimming diet does not leave you tired and empty.

If you missed my leaflet No. 39 "Nine Day Reducing Diet" (five to ten pounds loss in nine days time) when it was offered a few weeks ago, and wish to have it send a stamped self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of the EDMONTON BULLETIN.

Opening—♥3. 33

BY WILLIAM E. McKENNEY

Psychic bidding has many variations, such as psychic preemptive bids, psychic cue-bids, or true cue-bids showing control. Today's hand is unusual because everybody at the table, with the exception of North, bid clubs. South's opening bid of three clubs was purely a psychic bid, as he did not have a true pre-emptive bid. Miss Ruth Sherman (West) bid four clubs to show no losers in that suit. However, Waldemar von Zedtwitz in the East took up the slack on that when he bid five clubs. The final spade contract which they arrived at was a difficult one for most of the other contestants to reach.

Von Zedtwitz played low from dummy on the first heart. North won with the king and returned a club, von Zedtwitz winning with the ace. He led a small spade to dummy's jack, cashed the ace and jack of hearts and discarded two diamonds. Next he cashed the ace of diamonds and ruffed a diamond with the nine of spades. Dummy's nine of hearts was discarded on the club king and a small spade led to dummy's king. Another diamond was ruffed with the ten of spades, a small spade played to dummy's ace and the two losing clubs were discarded on the two long diamonds.

• • •

This is a simple example of making the dummy the master hand. Surprisingly enough, several declarers who received a club opening won the first trick with the ace of clubs and then ruffed a club in dummy, instead of immediately returning the queen of hearts and giving up a heart trick.

Dorothy Dix Says

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a senior in high school. I get out of school at 2:30 every day and work until 9:30. Each night some boy brings me home. There is no question of any love affair between any of us. We are just friends who are kids who enjoy each other, and they bring me home so that I will not be by myself at night.

But my mother highly disapproves of this. She wants me to go steady with one boy and says I will get talked about if I go with so many. She only lets me go out once a week, on Sunday night, when my date and I, whoever he is, go to church. She will not even let me do that if I haven't done my housework to please her.

Will you help me please.

PUZZLED.

Answer: I am afraid no one can help you because your mother is so far behind the times in her ideas that she will never catch up with the procession and see what a mistake she is making in trying to tie you down to one boy instead of you being left free to look the whole field over and see which one you prefer.

It is a pity that your mother hampers you by her old-fashioned views on this subject. But don't let her force you to hang yourself around one boy's neck. The "keeping company" custom is suicidal for girls because it makes them the victim of a boy's caprice, and if he gets tired of her, as he so often does, she is just simply ditched.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a widow in my late thirties and very much in love with a man in his early twenties. At times he seems to care a lot for me and at other times he is very indifferent. We are of different nationalities. He is full of life, likes to dance and go places; but I don't enjoy dancing or going about, and I wonder if I would be jealous of his younger friends.

What chance of happiness would we have in marriage?

UNDECIDED.

Answer: None at all. There is too much difference in age between you. You belong to one generation and he belongs to another, and that is a bridge that romantic love cannot cross. The boy would know that he had put himself in a ridiculous position in having a wife that everyone mistook for his mother, and the first time he was teased about you and you saw that he was ashamed of you, your marriage would go on the rocks.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a girl of 17, very unhappy because I have homely legs. Mine are thin and bowed, and I think that must be the reason that I have no dates. For it seems that the boys of today all fall for girls with legs like the pictures in the papers.

Do you think that is true, and is there anything I can do about it?

SAD SACK.

Answer: The plastic surgeons seem able nowadays to make anyone over according to their taste, so why don't you consult one and see if he can't take the bow out of your leg? Meanwhile you can offset your defect by making yourself so agreeable and entertaining, and by learning to dance so well that nobody will look at your lower extremities?

General Duty Nurse

THE STORY: Marcia Beach and her fiance plan to be married in her hospital room before he leaves for overseas. Sally is to be maid-of-honor and Marcia says she is going to throw her bridal bouquet directly to her. • • •

XVII

SALLY left the room and although she was smiling she was unaccountably annoyed. The way Marcia Beach described her intention of devoting her life to nursing made her sound like a prig or an obnoxious misogamist. That wasn't true. She didn't object to love and marriage for others. It was only that her love was given to her work—to helping people. Was that such a strange, unheard-of career?

But somehow, as she walked away from 327, she was unaccountably depressed.

"I'm not particularly proud of you, Sally Maynard," she told herself as she leaned against the wide parapet surrounding the roof garden on three sides. No patients were out here at this hour and Sally drank in the beauty of the spring day, breathing deeply of the delectable fragrance of mingled newly turned sod and fresh growing things. How silly of her to let the happiness of Marcia Beach upset her; for she frankly acknowledged that it was jealousy of the other's radiant joy that had sent her self-satisfaction tumbling from its pedestal.

"Oh, here you are!" a voice called. "Gosh, what luck! I've been looking all over the place for you. The chief is up in the air over this suggested wedding of your patient in 327? How come?"

"Then Lieutenant Allison saw him about it?" And Miss Sunderlin?" At his nod she went on: "Well, that's all there is to it. What am I supposed to do, Doctor Hallock?"

"Couldn't you make it 'Jim'?" he asked. "Only one syllable and very easy on the throat muscles."

Sally said nothing and he sighed deeply.

"It could quite simply be a double wedding. I'll willingly provide the extra groom—if you'll be the bride, Sally."

"Don't be ridiculous! And I don't think the idea the least bit funny."

"Heaven forbid!" he said softly. "I never said it was in the least funny."

• • •

"THEN stop saying such preposterous things," the girl cried, and turned away, starting to leave the roof. He caught her hand and drew her close to his side.

"What's got into you lately, Sally Maynard?" he demanded, refusing to let her go. "You're as touchy as the nerve patient in 210. You said you didn't hate me, darling—you did" too—I heard you," as she shook her head violently. "You told Maggie Adams — Oh, for Pete's sake, Sally, be a little kind to me. I like you such a lot and honestly I'm not a bad guy. Why can't we be friends at least? I ask you. Bury the hatchet and all that." He gave her a little shake as they reached the exit, and whispered, his lips close to hers: "Promise? Be a good girl and— Oh, my darling!" His arms enfolded her and, his eager mouth came down on hers. For a long moment Sally, too astonished and shaken to move, remained quiet in his arms. Then with a little cry of bewilderment and hurt she tore herself from his embrace and ran—refusing to listen to his pleading.

Doctor Hallock watched her headlong flight down the stairs. His face was flushed, his breath hurried and he scratched his head in something like consternation.

"Now why in heck did I do a thing like that?" he demanded of himself as he descended the stairs. "And just where does it get me?" He said the last aloud and bumped squarely into Norma Holden at the turn of the corridor.

• • •

"I DON'T know about you," she said straightening her cap, "but it's apt to land me in infirmary. You kicked me in the ankle—you big brute! Why don't you look where you're going?"

"Why don't they teach you girls manners?" he retorted. "Some of you nurses in this hospital have no conception of the meaning of the word or respect either—for your superiors."

"Such as?" the nurse jibed.

Doctor Hallock, however, refused the bait and hurried away. Norma Holden watched him until he disappeared then muttered to herself.

"First Maynard looking as if something had upset her much advertised poise rushed past and then Hallock looking like the cat that ate the canary—feathers still clinging to his lips. I wonder what happened. I'm going to find out." Her mouth set viciously, her eyes narrowed. "Wouldn't it be just too funny for words if Sunderlin should just happen to hear that her pet and the irreproachable Maynard should be having an affair. Oh boy!" She sighed for her own shattered dream, bit her lip, and went on to her patient.

And Sally, more upset than she had ever been in her life, rubbed her burning lips vigorously in an attempt to erase Jim Hallock's kiss.

"Oh, oh, oh!" she moaned in her heart. "How could he? How dared he? What have I ever done to let him think I allow men to take such liberties? I—I hate him! I could kill him! The beast!"

She slipped into the corridor washroom and bathed her burning cheeks, holding cold water against her eyes and lips in an endeavor to bring coolness and serenity again to her troubled spirit. But for the remainder of that day and until sleep brought relaxation, she continued to feel the pressure of those eager lips and the strength of those strong arms holding her close.

Factory Hand Uses Modern Dryer

This is no "goofy gadget" designed to remove dandruff and play a symphony, simultaneously. The family made the trip from London to Vermilion in six days, travelling by air to New York and from New York to Vermilion by train. The six days included a 12 hour stopover due to fog in Newfoundland.

Middle-Aged Man Pays the Piper

It happens so often! The man has turned 40—feels in the pink of condition and pleased with life. Then, suddenly, he begins to pay the penalty of over-indulgence in rich, fatty food and lack of exercise.

His sluggishness often leads to "middle-age" spread. He feels "slowed-down", tired all the time—half-sick, half-well—because he has allowed too much rich, fatty food and lack of exercise to overload his system.

If middle-age is putting its marks on you, try a leading British remedy for keeping fit and trim—Bile Beans. Purely vegetable Bile Beans tone up the system by stimulating the liver. The largest-selling liver pills in Great Britain, Bile Beans are called "The Remedy that Wakes up Nature". To keep fit and trim, a good rule to follow is "BILE BEANS at Bedtime." At all druggists.

Pilgrimage Held To District Shrine

BONNYVILLE.—Mount St. Joseph shrine at Gurneyville, 15 miles southwest of here, was the scene of an annual pilgrimage. About 2,000 Indians of Keeshwin reserve nearby, attended the religious meeting. The attendance expected from the white population was cut down considerably by inclement weather and bad roads.

The ceremony began in the morning with a high mass in little St. Joseph's chapel. Sermons were given in English, French and Cree by Father Marchand, Bonnyville, Father Morin, pastor of the chapel, and Father Lavallee, O.M.I., Cold Lake. With the return of sunny skies in the afternoon, a sports meet was held on Gurneyville's athletic grounds.

Mount St. Joseph rises about 400 feet and affords an excellent view of Muriel lake below and the lovely surrounding country. The Keehiwin reserve covers several hundred acres. For the last three years, a pilgrimage has been held in August and features special religious instructions for the Indians.

Says Airline Act Remains as Law

OTTAWA, (CP)—Acting Prime Minister St. Laurent said Monday in the commons that as far as he knew the legislation requiring railways to divest themselves of their airlines within one year after the end of the war with Germany still was law.

He spoke after opposition members called for a clarification of statements by Reconstruction Minister Howe to the effect that as a result of a "cabinet decision" the railways would not be forced to divest themselves of their airlines.

Mr. St. Laurent said that legislation could not be amended by a "cabinet decision."

The act referred to would make it necessary for the railways to give up their airlines within one year after the cessation of hostilities with Germany, said Mr. St. Laurent. So far no proclamation had been issued fixing the date of the end of war with Germany as far as that act was concerned.

Unless there were an act of parliament or an order-in-council—and he knew of none—the divesting act still was law. There has been no attempt made to modify the legislation by a cabinet decision and any change made would have to be in the form of a constitutional amendment.

Montgomery Visit To P.E.I. Speedy

By Austin Cross

CHARLOTTETOWN.— Field Marshal Montgomery arrived Monday, his whirlwind visit consisting of talking to veterans, shaking hands with the right people in the provincial legislature, and dining at government house.

His visit to Charlottetown ended when Lt. Gov. Bernard, chatting on a half inch cigar butt tenaciously in his teeth, took his place beside the man who isn't supposed to like tobacco. And drove away amid the cheers to the airport. Next stop is Fredericton.

Here he got a bigger and better reception than at Halifax. This place really went to town, yelling and cheering and waving flags. There was no doubt where the islanders stood, in regard to Monty.

Once he had answered to the amenities at the provincial legislative building, Monty went to Victoria park to chat with the veterans, following his Halifax pattern, a pattern he hopes to perpetuate across Canada. Monty made no formal speech but he spoke to every veteran.

Britons Helping Germans Escape

LONDON, (CP) — Increasing numbers of the 40,000 German prisoners of war in Great Britain are escaping and trying to get back to Germany by underground channels.

Seventy-three escapes have been reported in three weeks. Fifteen fugitives still are at large.

Army authorities say the escaped men are helped in some cases by sympathetic Britons influenced by a "Send-the P.O.W.'s-Home" Campaign. A petition signed by 875 churchmen, members of parliament and others urged Prime Minister Attlee last week to speed the prisoners' release.

Most spectacular of the escapes was that of a former panzer grenadier, Alexander Todt, one-armed after he reached the French coast in a yacht which his English companion, attractive Mrs. Doris Blake, is accused of stealing.

British newspapermen who interviewed Mrs. Blake at Calais reported she told them:

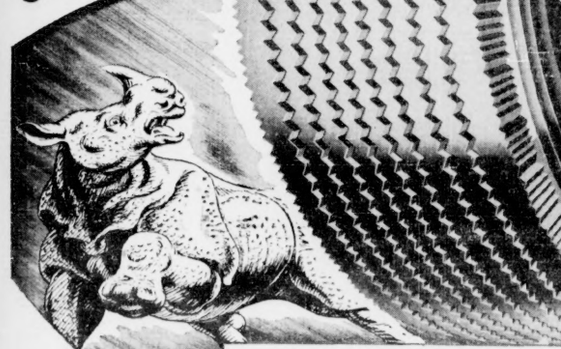

"If other girls in England—and I know of several in my village—would admit their love for German and Italian prisoners, it would be a big step toward preventing wars."

Thinks Conference To Be Successful

LONDON, (CP)—Prime Minister King, homeward bound after a month in Paris, said Monday he thinks the Paris conference will end satisfactorily "though it may take a little time." He gave a parting message before leaving on the boat train for Southampton.
